

Vote to Stop Lease-Purchase Program Funds

Group Approves New Buildings Including Green Bay Post Office

Washington —(AP)— The house appropriations committee today to cut off funds for the lease-purchase program. But it recommended $177,255,000 in new cash to finance construction of 66 public buildings; the program, including a $1,550,000 post office at Green Bay, Wis.

The committee said the direct appropriation procedure will save money. It ordered that hereafter the lease-purchase method be used only for constructing post offices.

As an anti-recession measure, the committee approved $75 million to accelerate repair and improvement of government buildings.

The committee's action was in connection with approval of a $6,549,920,900 bill to finance independent federal agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1. This is $627,577,400 more than President Eisenhower requested and $1,159,988,100 more than congress gave the same agency this year.

Officials Criticized

In a sharply worded explanation of its lease-purchase action, the committee criticized Franklin G. Floete, the general services administrator, and Maurice H. Stans, who recently became director of the budget bureau.

It said it asked Floete not to bind the government on any more lease-purchase contracts until further notice. But, the committee added, he "ignored the request and within the last two weeks has signed two lease-purchase contracts and advises the committee that he intends to sign 26 others."

The committee said Stans ignored a request not to require GSA to enter into any commitments for lease-purchase contracts until congress could decide whether the buildings should be constructed under direct appropriations.

Party of Policy

Stens contended "lease-purchase was an administration policy," the committee said, adding that his action "was arbitrary and clearly showed no respect for the congressional request."

The lease-purchase law, enacted in 1954, provided for private construction of public buildings such as courthouses, with the government eventually obtaining ownership through annual rental payments. Congress refused last year to renew the law and the committee noted that only one public building has been constructed under the program since the law was enacted.

The 66 buildings for which the committee recommended direct appropriations had been approved for construction under that law.

Through the direct appropriations procedure, the committee said, the government will save about $171 million on the 66 projects.

Rebel Chief Reported to Be Trapped

Jakarta —(AP)— The army commander who rebelled Sunday and held the North Sumatran port of Medan for 27 hours before it was recaptured is now trapped, the Indonesian army claimed today.

The army spokesman, Lt. Col. Rudy Pirngadi, said Maj. Boyke Nainn Golan and about 300 troops are "completely isolated" near Lake Toba, a famous resort 50 miles southwest of Medan. He said the troops are pinned along the east side of the lake without boats.

Golan's battalion in Medan rebelled against the Jakarta government early Sunday but Jakarta troops retook the important commercial center the next day. Since then Jakarta says ground forces and fighter-bombers have been pursuing Golan and another group of insurgents reportedly fleeing north.

"Hundreds" Surrender

"Hundreds of rebel troops" have surrendered, Pirngadi claimed.

The two pursuits were the only military activity, aside from sattered guerrilla fighting, reported on Sumatra. Pak-anbaru, the Central Sumatran oil center recaptured by Jakarta forces March 12, was reported quiet.

The chief of army intelligence, Col. Sukendro, claimed that more than 100 rebels have been killed in the 5-week-old civil war while casualties of the Jakarta government so far are only two killed.

The Dutch liner Oranje landed some 520 foreign evacuees from Medan at Singapore today. They included 122 Americans—mostly women and children, 280 Dutch, and more than 100 Britons.

Two ships are scheduled to evacuate foreigners—mostly Dutch—from the west coast port of Padang, the rebels military headquarters.

Says Officers Can Re-Route Traffic During Emergency

Madison —(AP)— Atty. Gen. Honeck said today state traffic officers have the authority to hold up or re-route traffic when highways are blocked by storms, accidents or other conditions of an emergency nature.

An opinion was given to Motor Vehicle Commissioner Melvin O. Larson.

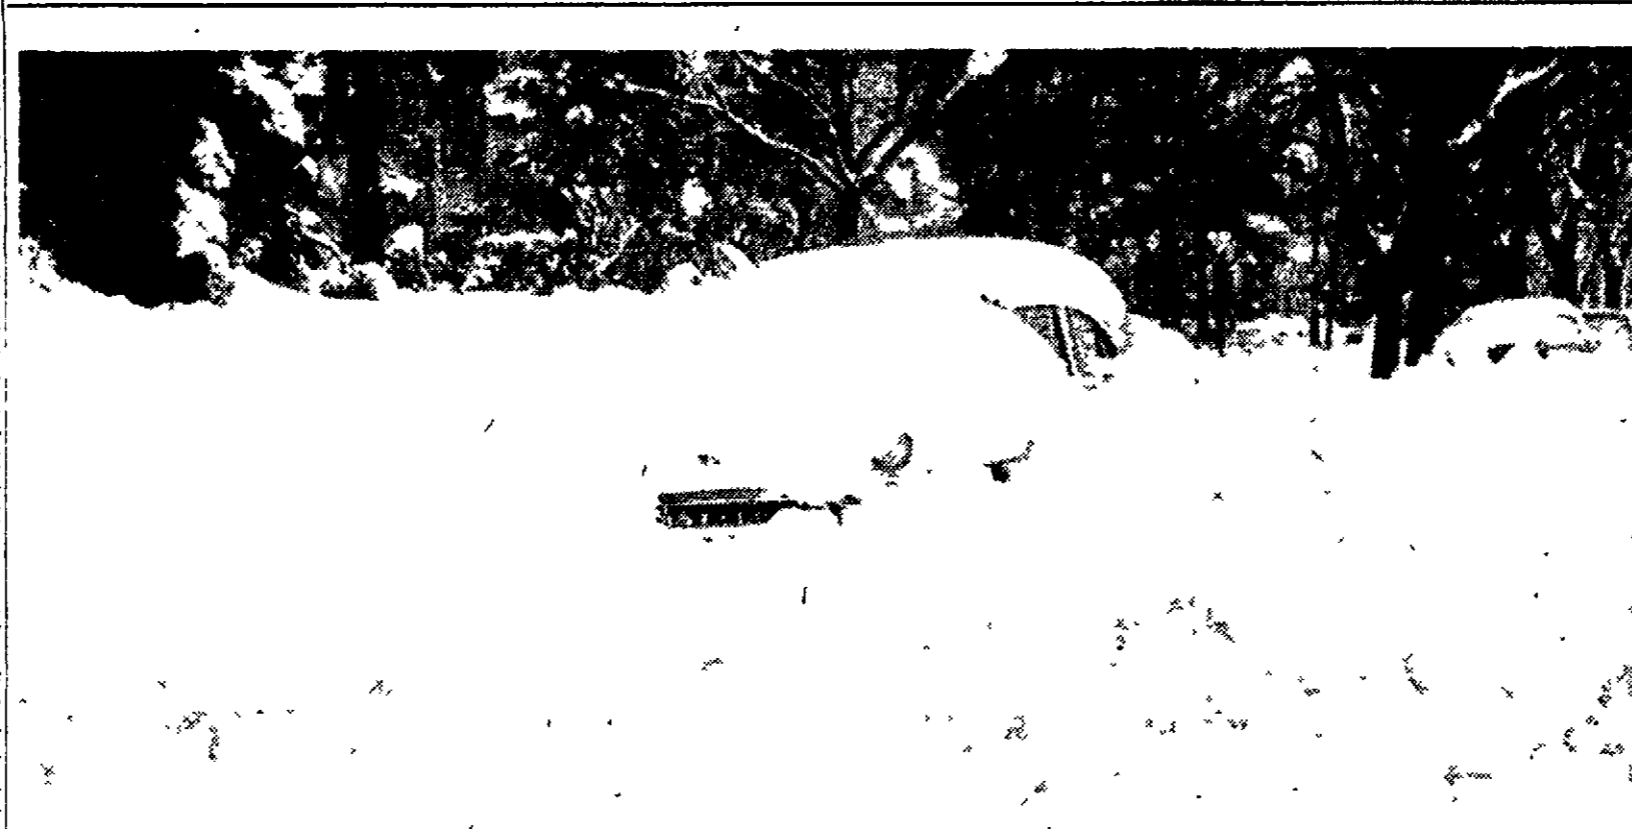

Honeck added that any agency employing traffic officers is not liable for accidents occurring to vehicles, property or highways as a result of such halting or re-routing of traffic.

East Chicago, Ind. —(AP)— A walkout termed by the company as "an unauthorized work stoppage," last night idled 10,000 workers and halted operations at the Indiana Harbor works of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

Cause of the walkout was not available immediately.

Severe Property Damage as Snowstorm Hits Northeast

Utility Services Disrupted In Many Areas; at Least 34 Lives Reported Lost

By the Associated Press

A winter's - end snowstorm slammed the northeastern seaboard today with a fury which at time eclipsed the devastating hurricanes of recent years. Life, property and services received shuddering blows.

From Virginia to New England, gale force winds flung mountainous heaps of snow onto the landscape and sent high tides lashing at the shorelines as the first hours of spring arrived.

Transportation was badly snarled. Hundreds of thousands of homes, stores and offices were without electricity and telephone service. Thousands of persons in heatless homes were evacuated. Schools by the hundreds were closed.

The snow reached a crippling depth of three feet in southeastern Pennsylvania, but stinging hard winds piled up much higher drifts at many places.

Even Washington, D.C., had 20 inches; New York City had 11, the Baltimore area nearly 24, and other points varying amounts.

Ferocious winds actually reached hurricane velocity of 75 miles an hour at times in New England.

Weathermen predicted that the center of the storm would be just east of Boston this afternoon, and that there would be diminishing punishment as the tempest shoved northward during the ensuing hours.

Death Toll Grows

The death toll mounted hourly, with at least 34 lives lost up to midmorning today. The totals by states: Pennsylvania 12; Maryland 7; New Jersey 5; Virginia 2; New York 5; Massachusetts 2, Rhode Island 1.

The storm played havoc with almost every kind of activity. President Eisenhower, who had planned to fly to the U.S. military academy at West Point for a founders' day ceremony, canceled his trip because of the weather.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said flying conditions were above minimum air force standards, but added that there was "no use taking any chances."

At Morgantown, Pa., more than 800 persons were marooned all night at a small restaurant on the Pennsylvania turnpike.

Reach Isolated Home

Near Albany, N.Y., rescue crews sought to force their way through 7-foot snowdrifts to reach Mrs. Charles Bell, 51, and her son, Alan, 16, who have been virtually isolated on their hilltop farm since Feb. 15. Their fuel supply was running low.

A barn at the farm collapsed under the weight of snow. The mother and son had been burning pieces of the barn roof, along with coal and oil hauled in by toboggan.

Mrs. Bell reported she and her son probably could get out on skis or snowshoes but added: "The drifts are too deep for the horse and there are three dogs, one very old one, that I couldn't leave here to die."

Hundreds of airline flights were canceled or flights terminated at different cities than scheduled. Long distance trains were creeping along, hours late. However, New York to Washington service on the Pennsylvania railroad was restored after a 6-hour tieup yesterday.

Cost of Living Again Higher

Rising Food Prices Principal Reason, U. S. Report Says

Washington —(AP)— A new high for food costs sent the nation's living cost level to still another peak mark in mid-February.

In reporting this today, Labor Statistics Commissioner Ewan Clague said he could see little hope for a living cost downturn in the next few months. He said it depends largely on crop conditions and food supply.

The official index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent between January and February, reaching 122.5 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is 3.2 per cent higher than a year ago.

Food alone soared to a point 4.5 per cent above a year ago, a new record.

Uptrend Continues

The new over-all living cost peak is the sixteenth time in the last 18 months that the index has broken over the top to a new high.

Clague said the reason living costs are not responding to the general business decline, but continuing upward on their own, is that most consumer cost items don't respond quickly to general economic conditions.

He said farmers suffered their recession two years ago with a result that farm prices have since strengthened. Food

McClellan Sees Need for New Labor Relations Laws

Calls Both Sides in Kohler Dispute 'Pretty Obstinate'

Washington —(AP)— Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) told his senate rackets committee today both the union and the company have been "pretty obstinate" in the Kohler strike. He said this shows there is need for some new labor relations laws.

The committee is investigating violence and boycotting in the United Auto Workers union strike—now nearly four years old—against the Kohler Co. No agreement to end the strike is in sight. The company continues to manufacture bathroom fixtures with a staff of non-strikers and new employees.

McClellan did not spell out what new laws he said are needed.

McClellan's remarks interrupted testimony by Leo Brei-rather, the UAW's official "boycott coordinator." The senator said he was not "necessarily condemning" either the union or the Kohler Co., but that "you both started out pretty obstinate, and remained the same to the present."

Couldn't Win "Surrender"

Under McClellan's questioning, Brei-rather said he considered the union boycott against Kohler products has been effective. But he said it could not be called a success because "we have not put enough pressure on the Kohler Co. to bring them to the bargaining table."

McClellan suggested this meant that the union's use of "economic force" has not "compelled and forced the company to surrender to the will of the union."

He said the objectives in such a boycott seem to be to force the target company to "close down or so reduce their business."

Canadians Seek Plane Crash Cause

Angus, Ontario —(AP)— The Canadian Air Force began an investigation today into an explosion which killed six Canadian civilians and an airman and demolished a 100-foot-long building at the RCAF armament depot here 55 miles north of Toronto.

An air force technician working at the far end of the building escaped with minor injuries.

There was no explanation of what set off the explosives yesterday.

Explosion in Garage Kills 2 Men in Texas

West Columbia, Texas —(AP)— A mysterious metal tube exploded in a downtown garage yesterday and killed two men. Another was injured.

Dead are H. S. Pool, 64, owner of the garage, and Johnny French, 63, Nelva Glen Harris, 18, was in fair condition in the Bay City hospital.

Reports Ship Bombing Plot

Anonymous Caller Telephones Warning To New York Reporter

New York —(AP)— An anonymous telephone warning that a bomb was about to explode aboard the Panama line ship S. S. Ancon forced the vessel to anchor today in Gravesend bay for inspection.

The inbound liner was due to dock at 8 a. m. but a coast guard boat intercepted the ship ordered it to anchor.

The warning was received at 5:47 a. m. by Dan Brigham, New York Journal - American reporter, who immediately notified police.

The caller said he was a waiter in Brooklyn restaurant and had heard four men at a table speak of the bomb on the ship. It was supposed to explode 15 minutes before the ship docked.

The caller also said he gathered from the overheard conversation that the president of Haiti was aboard. Capt. Charles L. Foley of the Ancon said by radiotelephone that this was not true.

The Ancon carried 109 passengers and a crew of 128.

Later, police said they had traced the telephone call and had taken into custody the alleged caller. He was taken to a police station for questioning.

Consider Next Step in Crisis

Compromise May Be Reached Between French, Tunisians

Paris —(AP)— The French cabinet met in secret session today to decide on the next step toward settling the Tunisian crisis. Signs increased that a compromise may be possible.

Premier Felix Gaillard, who refused yesterday to make any statements on the negotiations at an assembly foreign affairs committee, reported to the cabinet on the U. S.-British good offices mission.

U. S. Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy was reported optimistic after meeting with Gaillard. Murphy brought from Tunis the latest views of President Habib Bourguiba.

Moderate Speech

Murphy flew to London yesterday and was expected to return to Paris later today to continue discussions with French leaders.

French political circles viewed yesterday's independence anniversary speech in Tunis by Bourguiba as relatively moderate. Informal sources said the good offices team had cautioned Bourguiba not to slam the door on any settlement by making an inflammatory speech.

Bourguiba still insisted French troops must withdraw from Tunisia but expressed confidence this would be accomplished through the good offices mission.

Bourguiba's relative moderation and Gaillard's silence bolstered reports both sides may be seeking a face-saving method of settling the crisis brought on when French planes bombed a Tunisian border village.

Pennsylvania Police Reach 800 Persons Marooned in Restaurant

Morgantown, Pa. —(AP)— The more than 800 persons stranded in a snowbound Pennsylvania turnpike restaurant for 36 hours were evacuated today.

Dr. Richard Gerstell, state civil defense head, said the people—entertainers, truck drivers, motorists, mothers and their babies—who huddled in the darkened, heatless restaurant about 18 miles from Reading, in central Pennsylvania, were safely out.

Morgantown, Pa. —(AP)— State police broke through four feet of wet, solidly packed snow today to reach the more than 800 people marooned all night in a restaurant on the snow-bound Pennsylvania turnpike.

One lane was cleared early today and several state police cars reached the group of motorists, truckers, entertainers, solidly packed snow" and the jam of stranded cars on the turnpike, closed for 111 miles from Harrisburg to the New Jersey state line.

Dan Freeman, 39, a sales manager from suburban Philadelphia, who estimated the number packed into the restaurant, described the situation in a telephone interview.

Group Organized

"It's hot in here, we're depressed and very uncomfortable," he said, "but there's no air force helicopter which also brought food and medical supplies for 10 persons reportedly rooms, on chairs, tables and suffering from shock and frost-bites. One man, George L. Bliss, 61, of Rocky River, Ohio, collapsed and died in the crowded restaurant.

Craig A. Williamson, operations officer for the state civil defense council, said the crews direction of three doctors; had reached Morgantown, where he set up an infirmary; had sent the search parties, and had passed the hat to pay for food.

But he said their progress supplied by the restaurant manager, was slowed by "four feet of wet, aged."

Reach Accord on 2 Major Issues

Chicago —(AP)— A 46-man Lutheran unity commission has resolved two major issues holding up merger of four Lutheran church bodies into a single three million member church.

The commission, made up of leaders of the four groups, Thursday adopted resolutions concerning the ministry and seminary control. The resolutions still must be acted upon by the individual church bodies.

One resolution approved a compromise plan for theological education giving the central church body a stronger voice in operating the 13 seminaries of the proposed new church. Broad powers and duties would be assigned to a board of theological education.

The second resolution said ministers ordained by the new church "shall refrain from membership in secret societies or be subject to discipline." This would ban a minister from belonging to lodges.

Annapolis, Md. —(AP)— A fire set off by an oil stove explosion last night killed three children and critically injured another child and their mother and father.

Anne Arundel county police said the fire caused by the stove explosion demolished the one-story frame bungalow on the western fringe of the city. Police identified the dead as Jo Ann Kelly Tucker, 13, Linda Sue Tucker, 3, and Judy Ann Tucker, 12.

Their father, Norman J. Tucker, 38, his wife Edith Sarah, 36, and a fourth child, Betty Lou, 18 months, were in critical condition.

Thinks Pressure Brought on Mack

Washington —(AP)— A lawyer for a losing contestant in Miami's TV Channel 10 case testified today he felt certain while the case was before the FCC that pressure had been brought on Commissioner Richard A. Mack in the matter.

Paul Porter, attorney for A. Frank Katzentine, unsuccessful bidder for the channel, said he had "no first-hand knowledge" however of any commitment by Mack to support the rival application of a National Airlines subsidiary.

Asked why he didn't approach the commission about Mack's disqualifying himself from voting in the case, Porter said he didn't think he and his client had sufficient proof to go on to take formal steps.

House Passes Version of Farm Price Freeze Bill

Early Date Sought for Senate Action

Washington — (AP) — The senate today rushed to President Eisenhower a farm price support freeze bill which he is considered likely to veto.

The senate completed congressional action by accepting a house amendment to limit its effect to 1958.

The senate vote on that issue was 48-32. Previously the senate had passed the measure without the cut-off 50-43. The house bill passed that branch Thursday 210-172.

Washington — (AP) — Democratic leaders pushed today for fast passage of a farm price support freeze bill to President Eisenhower a 1-year freeze of farm price supports and planting allowances.

The house passed the price freeze bill 210-172 yesterday in the face of a presidential veto threat and GOP cries of election year "politics."

Neither the house vote nor a 50-43 vote by which the senate passed a similar bill last week equalled the two-thirds necessary to override a veto.

The bill would cancel impending reductions in price supports for 1958 at a saving to the farm economy claimed by Democrats to amount to more than one-half billion dollars.

Accept House Bill

Within minutes after house Democrats and dissatisfied corn belt Republicans voted passage of the freeze measure yesterday, senate Democrats indicated they were willing to accept the house version and send the bill immediately to the White House.

But senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) said no such arrangement had been discussed with him. There was no immediate indication when the senate would act.

The senate meantime passed a bill to extend for two years beyond June 30 the government's authority to dispose of farm surplus commodities abroad in exchange for foreign currencies, or as gifts in case of disaster.

Reject Barter Deals

Passage came on a voice vote after the senate rejected 44-39 an effort by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) to force Secretary of Agriculture Benson to use barter deals for at least a half billion dollars worth of surpluses each year. Permissive authority for barter remains.

The senate bill authorizes disposal of an added $3 1/2 billion of farm commodities during the extension period. The administration had asked a 1-year extension and authority for disposal of $1 1/2 billion of commodities.

The disposal bill now goes to the house.

The measure freezing price supports and acreage allotments was limited by the house to one year. The senate last week passed the bill without a shut-off date. A compromise of the differences will be necessary unless the senate accepts the house version.

Ike Denounces Freeze

Prior to house action, President Eisenhower had denounced any "price depressing" support freeze as a move in the wrong direction. And Benson had announced he would recommend a veto if congress passed a freeze bill.

The measure was passed by the house over strenuous objection of administration Republicans who contended it was an election year maneuver by Democrats to place the president in the position of vetoing farm aid in an election year.

Democrats called for passage of the bill as an anti-recession measure to check a 5-year decline in the farm economy. They were joined by midwestern Republicans out of sympathy with the administration's flexible price support program.

In all, 166 Democrats and 44 Republicans joined to pass the bill on the final roll call, while 141 Republicans and 31 Democrats, mostly big city members, voted against the measure.

Congressman Defeated in Try To Cut Measure

Tewes Attempts to Change Act to Aid Milk Support Only

BY FRANCES McKUSICK Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — Despite attempts by Rep. Donald E. Tewes, Waukesha Republican, to include dairy support freezes only in the price support "freeze" bill, the house Thursday voted down the Wisconsin congressman's motion to recommit the so-called "price-freeze bill" on a vote of 173 to 210.

Tewes first was defeated on an unrecorded "division" vote of 94 to 132 on an amendment to strike out all commodities on the price support freeze except dairy products, explaining that these commodities faced an early deadline of April 1, the date when dairy products subsidies will be lowered to 75 percent of parity, unless some action is taken by congress before then to prevent it.

When he introduced this amendment, Tewes explained that it was "not the final answer" to the dairy program, but that it was merely an interim measure to stop lowering of price supports to about $3.03 per hundredweight pending action of congress on a pending "self-help" measure.

Won't Affect Consumer

Stating that passage of his measure would not hurt the general consumer, Tewes said, "the price of fluid milk will only drop one half of one cent. Does anyone really believe that this price reduction will be passed on to the consumer?"

The Wisconsin congressman also argued that the bill in its original form was merely a "bill to help the cotton farmer," with commodities other than cotton added to it simply to make it more acceptable to the house as a whole.

Tewes recommended that the house "handle the price support problem of every commodity individually."

He was loudly applauded by Republican members.

Politics Charge

Rep. T. G. Abernethy, (D-Miss.) said it was "shocking" that Tewes should be attempting to look after his own interests first. Tewes shot back that

Rubbish Fire May be Cause Of Gein Blaze

Plainfield — (AP) — Deputy Fire Marshal John V. Hassler of Wausau said Thursday night that a rubbish fire could have caused the blaze which destroyed the farm home of grave robber and slayer Edward Gein.

Hassler visited the farm after the house burned to the ground early Thursday morning. He said he found hot coals buried in the 2-foot high pile of ashes left by a bonfire started Wednesday by a cleaning crew to dispose of trash.

The bonfire was about 75 feet from the house, Hassler said the fire was a large one, but the flames did not travel along the ground.

Flames destroyed the clapboard house as Plainfield residents seethed over the proposed auction sale of the property on Palm Sunday. Community leaders denounced the sale as commercialism of Gein's crimes. Gein has been committed to the Central State hospital at Wausau.

Harvey Polzin, the court appointed guardian of the property, said plans for an "open house" and inspection of the farm and the March 30 auction remain unchanged despite the fire. Polzin said he could not estimate the loss but said the entire 195 acres and house and outbuildings had been appraised at $4,700.

That was exactly what the original "cotton" bill did.

Chairman Harold D. Cooley of North Carolina of the house agriculture committee said there was no politics at all in the bill.

But the final vote showed it to be almost without exception a party-line vote.

Voting on Motion

Those Wisconsin members voting against the Tewes motion were Reps. Gardner Withrow; William K. Van Pelt; Melvin R. Laird, and John W. Byrnes.

Those Wisconsin members voting against it were Reps. Clement J. Zablocki; Henry S. Reuss; Lester R. Johnson and Alvin E. O'Konski.

Voting for final passage, 210 to 172 which included price support freeze on basic commodities as well as dairy products were all members for the measure.

Military Pay Bill Proposes Sharp Boosts

Top Enlisted Man Could Earn Over $10,000 Per Year

Washington — (AP) — A top enlisted man in the U.S. armed services could make more than $10,000 a year if congress passes the military pay bill the house will consider Monday.

An officer could make more than $31,000.

These would be rare cases, but compensation of practically all career men in the armed services would be stepped up considerably, and the raises would be heaviest in the top brackets of both enlisted and officer ranks. This is deliberate policy, to encourage men to make their careers in uniform.

Moreover, the services would be authorized to give enlisted men special promotions, or extra pay up to $1,800 a year, if they became proficient in skills needed by the services.

Scattered Complaints

Disregarding scattered complaints that a bill estimated to cost more than $660 million a year was being rushed without much consideration, the house armed services and rules committee highballed the measure through yesterday. It was set down for three hours' debate Monday, with unlimited opportunity to offer amendments. A vote by Tuesday seemed likely.

Rep. Kilday (D-Texas), chairman of the armed services subcommittee said he expected it to produce a "more stable, more efficient force for national defense."

The services have been complaining they cannot keep highly, and expensively, trained technicians nor talented young officers, and that the cost of training new batches every year is oppressive.

As examples of the increases the bill would provide, the armed services committee calculated that a captain (navy lieutenant) would get a 14 percent boost, a colonel (navy captain) 20 percent, and a 4-star general or admiral 32 percent, assuming typical lengths of service.

Officers and enlisted men with less than two years service—most of whom would be doing obligated service—would get no raises.

Top Enlisted Figure

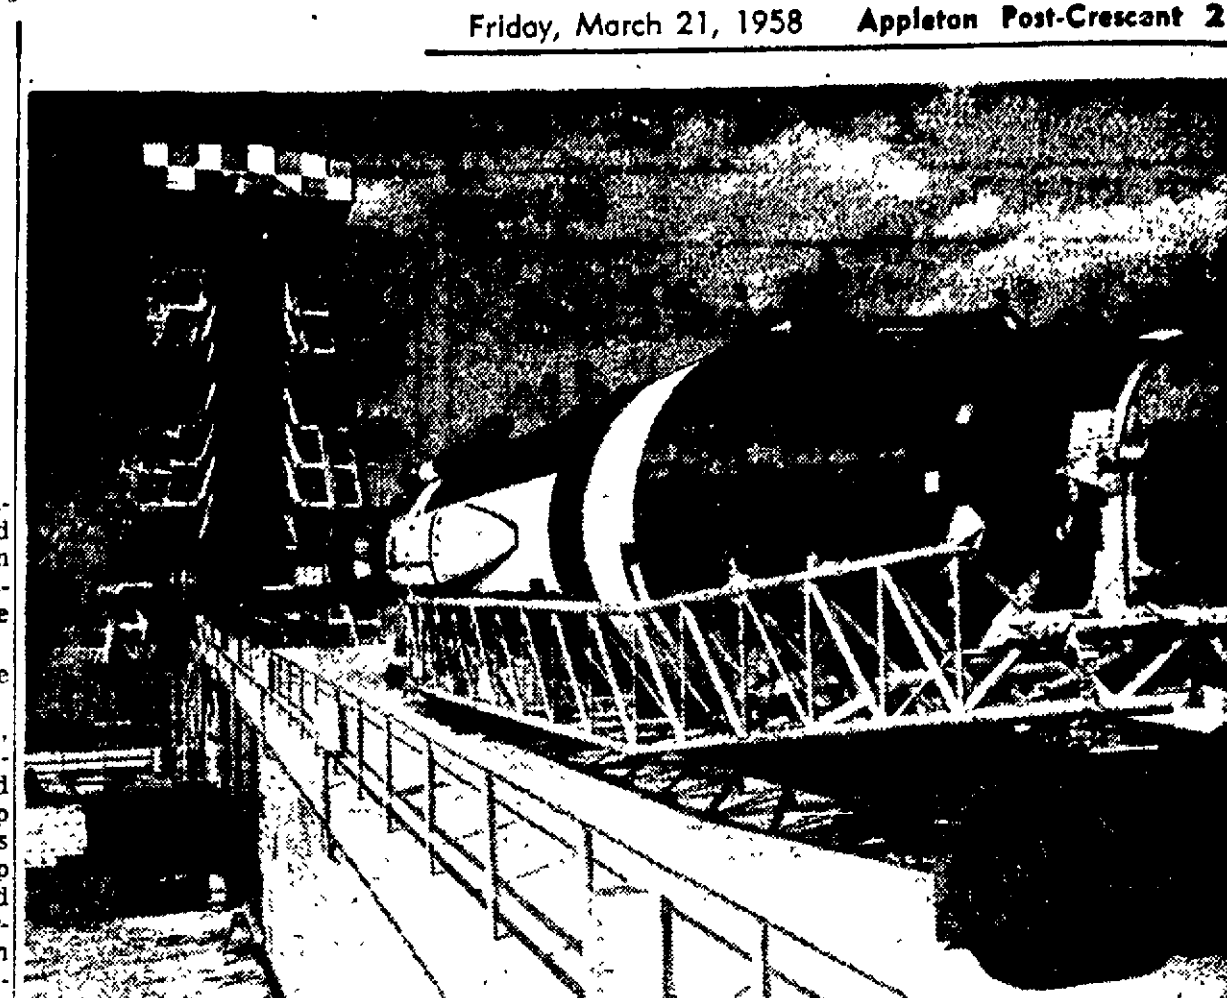

To obtain the absolute top enlisted figure, a man would have to have 25 years' service, be promoted to the top new grade, be drawing flight or other hazard pay and top efficiency pay. His pay and allowances then would total $10,104.

The top officer pay would go to a 4-star general or admiral, with 30 years service, serving as a chief of staff, providing his own quarters and receiving hazard pay. His pay and allowances would come to $31,104.

In each case, there would be the usual military fringe benefits—exemption of allowances from income tax, free medical service and noncontributory retirement rights.

Missile Fleet Could Cruise in Space Ready to Drop to Attack

Conference Told Winged Aircraft Would be Guided From the Ground

Los Angeles — (AP) — A fleet of winged missiles could cruise over the earth for months on end, ready to streak down on any target at a moment's notice, the space age conference was told today.

General Manager William F. Ballhaus of Northrop Aircraft, Inc., said:

"Considerable research is now in progress on atomic engines. Such engines will make it possible for winged missiles to cruise for months over the face of the earth."

Fleet of Missiles

"Should present negotiations with the Russians for an open skies agreement ever materialize, I can visualize a fleet of winged missiles with atomic engines and automatic reconnaissance equipment maintaining constant aerial inspection which is part of the open skies plan."

"If we were to let our imaginations rove, we could see fleets of atomic powered winged missiles carrying thermonuclear warheads cruising endlessly in a condition of immediate readiness to strike at pre-selected or command targets."

Such missiles, Ballhaus said, would not need refueling and would have to be returned to their bases only for periodic maintenance work.

He said the missiles would be guided from the ground and could be allowed to circle the earth almost indefinitely in the upper atmosphere, or directed at targets. Such guidance equipment, he said, is technically feasible.

Too Soon

Missile Expert Dr. Wernher von Braun told the conference last night that the United States is hog-tied in the satellite race because it is trying to produce an elaborate space vehicle too soon.

He criticized the "idolized weapons system concept"—the idea of integrating the vehicle, its armament, navigational aids and supporting ground equipment before it is launched.

"Let's get a good, big rocket engine adequate to power a manned orbital rocket, even if the latter does not qualify as an integrated weapons system but is nothing but a glorified test bed," he said.

"We are literally hog-tied because we cannot proceed without first satisfying all the small print specifications required under the idolized weapons system concept," said von Braun, chief of the guided missile development at the army's Redstone arsenal at Huntsville, Ala.

Ruling Party Assured Of Control in Ireland

Belfast, Northern Ireland — (AP) — The ruling British conservative party's political allies in northern Ireland today were assured continued control of the local parliament.

Partial returns from the general election yesterday gave the unionist party 31 seats to 9 for all opposition groups. Returns were not in from 12 districts. In the old parliament the unionists had 38 of the 52 seats.

Only one incident of violence was reported, and it was blamed on the underground Irish republican army (IRA), which wants northern Ireland merged with the Irish republic. Terrorists blew up a customs building on the border near Newry, County Down. No one was hurt.

Suggest Use of A-Bombs To Study Moon's Crust

BY FRANK CAREY

Washington — (AP) — Some U.S. scientists, seeking more knowledge of outer space, suggest that atomic explosives hurled to the moon might furnish a means of studying the moon's crust.

This idea, one of many dealing with space study, is contained in a report made public Thursday urging the United States to undertake a long range program of exploration landing (on moon and) on the looking towards manned space flight.

The report was made by the progressively more ambitious S. National committee for the International Geophysical Year (IGY).

The scientists said an idea behind the proposal was that "manned space flight will occur in the course of the program."

In the report, the scientists indicated real confidence the objective of manned space flight to the moon and nearer planets — Mars and Venus — ultimately will be achieved.

Inevitable

"Although it is impossible to predict how quickly man himself will follow his exploring instruments into outer space," said the report, "the inevitable culmination of his efforts will be to undertake a long range program of exploration landing (on moon and) on the looking towards manned space flight."

The report proposed a progressively more ambitious program of launching unmanned S. National committee for the International Geophysical Year (IGY).

The scientists said an idea behind the proposal was that "manned space flight will occur in the course of the program."

Aldermen Approve Request to Halt Pleasure Boats During Rush Traffic

The Appleton city council has agreed to ask the federal government for permission to hold pleasure boat traffic on the government canal for 15 minutes during the evening traffic rush.

Ald. Ervin J. Bogan, who was absent from the meeting, originated the move to prevent pleasure boats from causing traffic congestion during peak traffic hours.

Bogan called for a ban on bridge openings during morning, noon and late afternoon traffic rushes, but the street committee found the most trouble from pleasure boat traffic came during the afternoon rush.

The committee said red and green lights will tell boaters that the bridge - tender has heard their boat horns and whether to proceed.

The system, the committee was told, has been approved and is working in Oshkosh.

Zone Change Denied

The council, upon urging of Ald. William F. Ertl, refused by an 18 to 1 vote to rezone the two lots at the northwest corner of W. Bell avenue and N. Bennett street to 2-family district. Ald. John Schumacher voted for the change.

At the last council meeting, a decision was deferred after Ertl told of neighborhood objections and the owner explained why he wanted it.

Foxes' Contract

The contract between the Fox Cities Foxes baseball team and the city for rental of Goodland field was approved without dissent or comment.

It calls for the ball club to pay the city 5 per cent of gate receipts after taxes for the first $25,000, 6 per cent of the next $15,000 and 8 per cent over $40,000. The percentage also will apply to gate receipts for the four games played at Menasha.

Trash Burners

The controversial trash burner ordinance was passed for the first time in its new form. Ald. Donald Mueller questioned the wording of the mesh requirement. It read that burners "covers and sides must have No. 8 wire with a mesh not more than an inch across. He wanted it to read an inch all ways.

W. School Crossing

The ordinance which will permit Chicago and North Western Railway company trains to block the W. Second street crossing up to 30 minutes was passed for the last time. It becomes law upon publication in the Post-Crescent.

Contracts

All contracts recommended earlier by the board of public works and published previously were approved. They include, for the most part, materials and labor for the 1958 street, sewer and sidewalk construction program.

Grades Set

An ordinance listing grades on a host of streets, as required by state law before improvement projects can be undertaken, was approved.

Pistol Range

A 10-year lease agreement with the Appleton Pistol and Rifle Club, Inc., was approved. It will cost the city $100 a year and $1,400 in immediate improvements. In return, policemen will be permitted to use the range for target practice.

Purchases Ordered

Ordered purchased from bidders chosen by various committees, and reported earlier, were a front-end loader, corrugated pipe, three squad cars, one police sedan, two 2-wheel motorcycles, two 3-wheel motorcycles, street marking paint, a half-ton pickup truck and 10,000 feet of traffic cable.

License Granted

Frank Phillips, 1602 N. Morrison street, was granted a bartender's license, along with four others reported earlier.

Clutching Her Favorite Doll, Kathy Marie Thies, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thies, 2530 Williams street, smiled as she prepared for her trip to Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn. Surgery was performed on the child Thursday to correct a hole in her heart and she is reported responding well. Success of the operation won't be known until Sunday. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Child Undergoes Surgery to Close Hole in Her Heart

Three-year-old Kathy Marie Thies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thies, 2530 Williams street, underwent somewhat rare heart surgery Thursday morning and is reported to be responding satisfactorily.

The 3-hour operation, performed at Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., served to close a hole between the ventricles of her heart. It won't be known until Sunday whether the opera-

Council Backs Delinquency Study for City

The Appleton city council has joined in requests for a state pilot study in Appleton of the causes and cures of juvenile delinquency and related ills.

Roemer

Councilmen, in endorsing a resolution by Mayor Robert L. Roemer, ordered their decision forwarded to the state.

The action backs up previous requests for selection of Appleton made by the Outagamie county board, the community council, the chamber of commerce and others.

Roemer's resolution cites two reasons why the state should pick Appleton.

County Ideal "We feel," the resolution said, "that Outagamie county and Appleton are able to co-operate with the state in this project and provide the help necessary to make a project of this type a success and that the county is ideal in all respects."

Funds for the study were appropriated last year by the legislature and Appleton is being considered for the project.

The study would try to illustrate methods of control and prevention of juvenile delinquency and other problems.

The community council has been spearheading interest in locating the study in Appleton.

Northside Group Backs Dairyama

Full membership participation is planned for the 1958 Northside Advancement association Dairyama in Appleton June 28 and 29, Willard Johnson, publicity chairman, declared today.

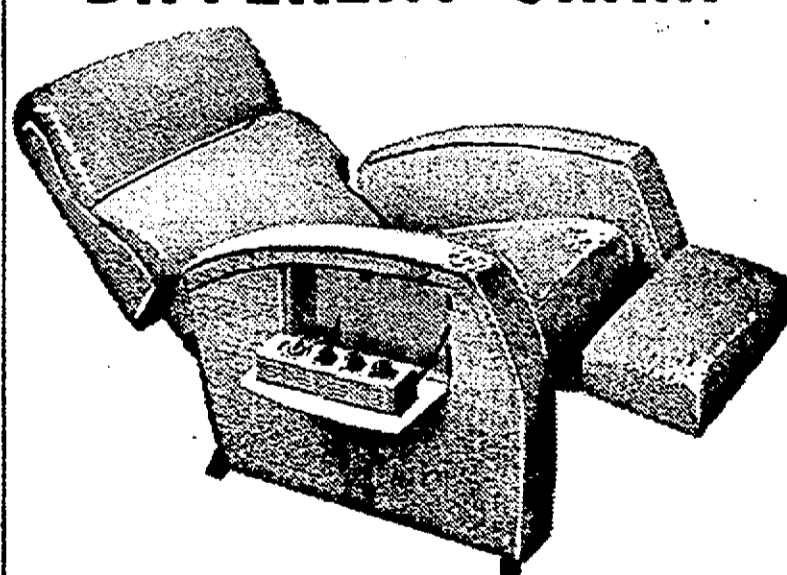

Program committee chairmen reported progress at a meeting this week. General Chairman Stanley Smith reviewed aims and plans for the show.

Purpose of the dairyama will be promotion of dairy products. Entertainment will be featured, Johnson said.

dent performers. When the Smythes introduced into their program the Cuban rhythms, they called upon Dick and Don Kloehe, juniors, to play the conga drums and the bongos. Trish Davis and Mary Quella beat out the rhythm on the maracas and claves, percussion instruments of the Latin Americas.

The program featured music of different periods, ranging from Bach to contemporary.

PATE AIR GLIDE differs from every other gasoline that sells at the price of regular. To make Air Glide the No.1 value PATE alone adds costly fuels to a fine grade of gasoline produced by one of the nation's great refineries. Court Approves Peabody Trustee Actions for '57

$568,255 Paid Estate's
Beneficiaries So Far;
$453,972 Left in Trust

Actions of trustees of the George F. Peabody estate during 1957 have been approved by County Judge Stanley A. Staidl.

The report shows net worth of the estate at the end of last year was $453,972.

Total paid to beneficiaries of the will through 1957 was $568,255, the report indicated. Trustees indicated the trust will be terminated by June this year.

Peabody was operator of the Pettibone-Peabody company (later sold to H. C. Prange company) at the time of his death in 1909. Peabody's estate was left in trust for a life income for his daughter. The estate at the time of his death was $154,354 and grew to over $1 million by the time his daughter died in 1954.

Paid to Beneficiaries
Distributions through 1957 to the various beneficiaries included $250,000 to the Visiting Nurses association, $125,000 to the Appleton Park board, $75,000 to Lawrence college, $62,500 to the Appleton Young Men's Christian association, $49,505 to employees and friends (three) and $6,250 to the Appleton board of education.

The distribution in 1957 totaled $227,004, the report shows. During 1957, the trustees reported a trust income of $19,011 and expenses of $15,253. The estate had receipts of $594,790, including $502,500 from sale of securities, last year.

Five Named On Slate For Chamber

The names of five candidates to fill five vacancies on the Appleton Chamber of Commerce's board of directors were announced today.

The five are Edward M. Adam, John Conway, William H. Pifer, M. J. Schulenberg and Bruce B. Purdy.

They were selected by a 5-man nominating committee composed of First Vice President Walter L. Rugland, committee chairman, Harold C. Adams, Fred T. Eustice, F. A. Meythaler and Otto A. Sherry.

If elected under the chamber's new election procedure, they will succeed Victor I. Minahan, Jr., chamber president, Otto A. Hansen, Russell Berggren, B. A. Pfeifferle and Dudley E. Eisele on the board.

An opposition slate can be nominated if a minimum of 10 signers post notice of their slate at the chamber office at least 20 days before the annual meeting. The annual meeting is April 23.

If no opposition develops, the chamber president can declare the polls closed and instruct the chamber secretary to cast a unanimous ballot for the committee's slate.

Dan Smith will be organist. A free will offering will be taken.

Correction

In Thursday's Post-Crescent a story and picture covering the award of a savings bond to Donald Mayhugh, route 3, Kaukauna, should have stated that the bond was presented Mayhugh by the General Drivers and Dairy Employees local 563 rather than the Appleton central labor body.

Crown Zellerbach Shows Decrease In Net Income

Operations for Crown Zellerbach corporation leveled off in 1957 and net income declined $12 million, according to the company's annual report.

President A. B. Layton said if there were no worsening of the economy, "earnings probably will continue at about 1957 levels and generally improve as the historic 4 per cent annual growth rate in demand absorbs the new capacity in the industry."

Operating results show earnings of $38 million, 24 per cent below the record $50 million earned in 1956. Earnings per share came to $2.66, compared with $3.53 the previous year. Sales of $460 million were slightly under 1956 sales of $462 million.

Men Give Up Proxy Fight At Brewery

La Crosse — Two men seeking to gain a place in the management of the G. Heileman Brewing company gave up their proxy fight Wednesday and the present board of directors headed by Roy Kumm was declared unanimously reelected.

The challenge was brought by Warren Loveland and Bernard Decheine, both of La Crosse, who said they represented small stockholders in a protest of a drop in sales and profits between the years 1953 and 1957.

Kumm said a comparison of the years was unfair because in 1953 Milwaukee breweries were involved in a strike, and sales and profits for all other state brewing firms were up. Heileman had sales of $12,637,000 in 1957, a drop of $24 million from the previous year.

In the counting of proxies which began Tuesday Loveland and Decheine failed to win enough votes to name one man to the 7-member board of directors. The tabulation was completed Wednesday night and a few minutes later Loveland and Decheine announced they were surrendering their votes.

An unofficial report said the pair received 240,000 votes, about 90,000 short of the number required to elect a single director. The company has 3,400 stockholders.

Menominees May Prefer Not To Change Ways

Some are Reluctant To Set Up Separate
Local Government

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—The possibility that the Menominee Indians won't want to change their ways, after all, when the date for the termination of federal government management of their affairs arrives is being mentioned aloud here in official discussions.

Lloyd Andrews, Shawano lawyer and local counsel for the 3,200-member tribe, suggested that likelihood as a state commission here this week continued deliberations on the future welfare of the Indians and the responsibilities of the state to help the tribe when federal comes to a close.

The state commission was discussing the alternatives that probably will be available to the Indians, with respect to local government.

Some Reluctant
Andrews said there are some influential members of the Menominee reservation who are reluctant to entertain the idea of a separate and independent local government, with all of the financial complications that would be entailed.

He said he has found a growing feeling among them that when the federal government's responsibility for the tribe is terminated, a system of state guidance and supervision, perhaps through a separate state administrative department, might be preferable to local political and financial autonomy. The commission received the comment without audible reaction. But some of the commission members are known to be concerned about the fact that little progress toward preparing a termination plan, as required by the federal act, has been made. Little progress has been made, moreover, in preparing a legislative plan covering such matters as local governmental services within the reservation.

Self-Help Plans Pushed Despite Benson's View

Two Farm Bodies
Woo Congress for Dairy Stabilization

Washington—(AP)—Sponsoring organizations pushed ahead with efforts to win congressional approval of a "self-help" program for the dairy industry despite an informal turndown by the administration.

The plan is being advocated by the National Milk Producers federation and the National Grange. It would give the dairy industry authority to try to stabilize prices and supplies of its products through a system of production quotas, if needed, and disposal of surpluses financed by funds raised from milk producers.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has come out publicly against the plan. He said the plan would cost the treasury money, would discourage consumption of dairy products and doubtless would require rigid production controls on milk.

Officials of the Milk federation and the Grange said they were not surprised by Benson's stand. They said they would not let it effect efforts to get the plan enacted into law. Milk stabilization efforts are now in the hands of Benson's department.

Mother Drops Four Children to Safety As Home Burns

Milwaukee—(AP)—A mother dropped her four young children into the safe arms of a utility company repairman Thursday as flames swept through a 2-story frame building.

Mrs. Laura Wilkinson was talking in her quarters with Anthony Tarantino, 31, when they saw smoke coming from a pantry. Tarantino opened the pantry door and found the room in flames.

To escape the flames, Mrs. Wilkinson took the children to a second floor flat and to a window to avoid the heavy smoke. Outside, Tarantino motioned to drop the children to him. He caught each one safely. Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Eva Stewart, 52, a woman who lived in the upstairs flat, climbed down fire department ladders.

Mrs. Wilkinson and her children were treated for smoke inhalation.

lines feeding some 100,000 homes. Annapolis was without power for nine hours. A large frame house in Baltimore burned to the ground when firemen were unable to get through the drifts. Highways were closed by fallen poles, and Pennsylvania railroad service from Washington to New York was shut down for several hours. Nearly two feet of snow fell in the Baltimore area and about the same amount blanketed Frederick, Md. Six storm-caused deaths were reported in Maryland.

Power Service Cut
As spring officially came in at 10:06 last night, some 300,000 persons in the area of Washington, D.C., were without electricity. Power firms said it may take another 24 hours before full service is restored. In the nation's capital, the White House telephone system was partially knocked out for about an hour; security police at the White House gates used walkie-talkies. An evergreen tree was felled on the White House lawn. Traffic at National airport was cut 25 per cent. Some 10,000 homes had no telephone service.

Slashing into Pennsylvania, where eight weather-connected deaths were reported, the storm caused widespread power failures in the southeastern part of the state. The town of Oley, Pa., 14 miles southeast of Reading, reported 36 inches of snow. The Harrisburg area was struggling under a 30-inch fall. The western part of the state suffered much less from the storm and winds, although three western counties estimated snow depths ranging up to 13 inches.

Turnpike Stretch Closed
Thousands of Pennsylvania homes were lightless, heatless and phoneless. Roads were partially knocked out for blocked, transportation was at a crawl, and many trees were

Southern New Jersey was wracked by gale-force winds and up to 10 inches of wet, freezing, snow. Northern New Jersey had up to 17 inches. At Camden, N. J., a state of emergency was declared in Camden county. Civil defense officials ordered all public and parochial schools closed because of the danger from live electrical wires pulled down by the snow. A half-million homes and business establishments in the heavily-populated area were without light and heat. At Glassboro, N. J., some 5,000 persons were evacuated from their heatless homes to heated public schools. In the New York City area, four persons were killed in traffic accidents. Manhattan was fortunate, with only a 3½-inch total snowfall but there was deep slush and it slowed traffic. At dawn today, however, the snow began again. The weather bureau said it would continue through most of the day but with diminishing intensity. Homes Blacked Out On suburban Long Island, 100,000 homes were blacked out by power failure. Heavy snow and high winds raised havoc with transportation. Idlewild airport was shut down for four hours until runways could be cleared. Last night a Bermuda-bound airliner ground looped at Idlewild after returning to the field with a locked nose wheel. The 11 aboard were not injured. Earlier a big airliner bound for Copenhagen skidded on a slush-covered runway and veered off the strip before coming to a halt. All 50 aboard escaped injury. ness... that they must yield or suffer the consequences."

"The battle is still in doubt, so to speak," Breirather said. He added he did not subscribe to McClellan's use of the word "surrender."

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said in advance of today's session that Breirather, an official of UAW Local 833 at the Kohler plant, "clearly is not the mastermind" in the boycott. Mundt said the committee should find out the real top strategist of the boycott, which he said has sought to intimidate political figures in several cities.

Breirather acknowledged yesterday there are things he doesn't know about the boycott. He said he felt sorry for the plumbers, contractors, supply houses and other against whom the boycott has been aimed when they handled Kohler products. But he said he also felt sorry for the striking Kohler workers — himself among them — and philosophized:

"People are hurt who have no business getting hurt." It all, he said, "is the result of a situation... deplorable... that seems unresolvable."

The company and the UAW handed the committee statements outlining points still at issue in the strike which will be four years old on April 5. The statements showed them far apart.

The company now denies that the UAW could muster a majority of its workers to declare the union their collective bargaining agent if another plant election is held, and said "the company cannot lawfully deal

Green Bay Woman Dies Of Heart Attack While Driving on Expressway

Chicago—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth B. Troup, 58, of Green Bay, died Thursday of a heart attack suffered as she drove her automobile on Edens Expressway north of the city near State Highway 68.

Sheriff's police said Mrs. Troup, a housewife, pulled off to the side of the highway before she died. She was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Francis hospital in suburban Evanston.

with a minority union." The UAW won recognition and a contract in 1953.

The union listed five contract issues still in dispute—arbitration of grievances, seniority, lunch period in the enamel shop, pensions and reinstatement of strikers including some formally discharged.

Chairman McClellan told all concerned he wished they could settle their differences and end the bitter marathon dispute.

Breirather testified he doesn't know how much the union has spent to run the boycott. He said he doesn't handle the bills for operations outside the Sheboygan, Wis., area in which the plant is located. His job, he said, is to coordinate the boycott effort, with the Sheboygan UAW strike committee as his boss.

"I want to find out the mastermind," Mundt told a reporter. "I want to know whether this is directed out of Detroit, and I want to learn more about the political pressures and intimidation that have been practiced against city councils and other political figures, to induce them not to buy Kohler products."

Cost of Living Again Higher

plays a major part in living costs.

Clague said durables, such as autos, appliances and so on, and soft goods, such as gasoline, fuels and clothing, are responding somewhat to the general downturn.

But food and service costs—haircuts, medical care, public transportation, rent, repair and cleaning charges—are still rising.

Some Pay Increases

The new hike in living costs means a pay raise of one or two cents an hour to about 100,000 workers in assorted aircraft, metal work and local transit companies. The aircraft firms are Martin, Hughes and Fairchild.

Vege contractors for these companies are geared to the government index.

Food cost rose four-tenths of 1 per cent from January to February. Prices of most meats, fruits and vegetables, and restaurant meals, increased.

An exception was rib roast prices, indicating consumers have shifted to cheaper meat cuts. Prices for eggs and most dairy products declined a bit.

Household costs rose somewhat with an increase of one-tenth of 1 per cent in rents. Rent declines were reported in several cities, however.

Apparel Prices Ease

Transportation and apparel prices were slightly lower. A drop of 2.7 per cent in gasoline prices contributed most to the decline in the transportation category. Continuing post-Christmas clothing sales helped bring average apparel prices down one-tenth of 1 per cent.

Clague said the food cost advance was mainly due to crop freezes in Florida and generally poor weather conditions in Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama and Texas — source of much of the country's winter fruit and vegetable supply. He said lower fruit-vegetable prices can be expected in May or June.

The labor department also reported that weekly spendable earnings of factory workers were almost unchanged between January and February. It said the earnings less taxes of a worker with three dependents were $73.71 and for the single worker $66.33. This was 17 cents weekly less than in January, because of slightly reduced work hours.

The department said that buying power of factory workers is down almost 5 per cent from a year ago, because of lower earnings and higher living costs.

Mill Presented Award For Top Safety Mark

Corporation Officials Take Part in Program At Kimberly Plant, Speakers Praise Workers

Kimberly — Officials and employees of the Kimberly Clark mill here were honored at a special noon program Thursday when presentation of the National Safety council award was made.

The Kimberly mill won the award with a top record of 1.30 last time accidents per million man hours worked in 1957. This was the highest mark of all big pulp and paper division mills in the United States and Canada.

Bob Currie, representing the National Safety council, presented the award to mill manager Harry Pierce. In giving him the plaque Currie said it "stands as a tribute to all 1,400 employees of the plant," and pointed to the consistent safety record the mill has had in the past years.

1958 Offers Challenge

A. G. Briggs, personnel superintendent of the mill, said that "1958 offers a challenge for everyone, in that we must try to keep the fine record and also try to top the 1957 mark." He accepted the trophy on behalf of the entire mill and said "it is not mine or the mill's, it is ours."

William Kellett, corporation executive vice president, urged the employees to look to the year ahead. "By nature we tend to walk away from our mistakes," Kellett said, "but we should put an equal amount of effort on our mistakes and those occasions that are near accidents, in order to prevent them."

F. H. Werling, corporation vice president for manufacturing, offered his congratulations and said, "the satisfying thing is that every individual in the mill can be proud and receive credit for this accomplishment."

In behalf of employees, the award was accepted by Wilbur Strick, Paper Mill Workers union president.

Strick said it was the "most thrilling moment he has ever had in connection with the workers and employees." He went on to congratulate Pierce for his outstanding leadership.

Robert Wood, safety director of the corporation was introduced and Pierce closed the program by pointing out that the mill has run 147 days without a lost time accident but he warned, "we cannot rest on our laurels, that is history," and he urged the employees to make 1958 the best year ever.

County Port Aid Drastically Cut

Federal Government Cuts $115,000
Request to $18,700 for Work

The federal government has given Outagamie county's airport a setback in its tentative allocation of funds for airport construction.

The commerce department announced Thursday that $18,700 had been allocated for the Outagamie port improvement, far under the $115,000 asked by the state aeronautical commission. The state has estimated the total cost of a cross runway and new terminal building will be $230,000.

The federal government would pay half and the county and state split the remaining portion under current airport improvement programs.

The allocation announced Thursday is tentative, T. K. Jordan, director of the state aeronautical commission said today. The state must submit plans to the federal government for approval before any aid actually will be programmed. However, Jordan said, he did not know at this point just what action could be taken by the state to protest the cut in aid.

Jordan said he had not been notified of the federal government's action, so could not say what might have caused the cut.

The state already has been cut on its 25 per cent share of the airport cost, raising the county share to nearly 40 per cent. The legislature last year cut the aeronautical commission's aid funds and refused to reinstate the amount later.

Service Certification
The Outagamie port is awaiting certification by the CAB for service by North Central Airlines. The airline objected to routes recommended by the CAB examiner, and a hearing in Washington last month is expected to delay any airline service for the Fox Cities by at least several months.

Construction on the cross runway at the port was scheduled for this summer, but with the cut in federal aid, the future of the runway is uncertain. The county board must act to appropriate any money for the port, but would not normally act until the state had indicated how much would be needed.

With the cut, the county would have to pay most of the $230,000 improvement work.

State Sewage Works Operators Schedule Meeting in Appleton

A dinner at noon at the Elks club will be held prior to start of the afternoon session.

A Demonstration on Building a Band was offered to the Edison Parent-Teacher association Thursday by Frank Comella, left, Appleton High school band director, and two of his students — Judy Faulk, with flute, and Charles Riley, with trumpet. Driver Flees 3-Car Crash

Car, Registered
To Menasha Man,
Badly Damaged

Appleton police are seeking the driver of a car that hit two others Thursday night. The driver fled the scene on foot.

A car registered to Richard E. Farr, route 2, Menasha, about 9:45 Thursday night crashed into the rear of one driven by Jacob Kelderman, 40, 232 N. John street, Kimberly, as Kelderman drove west in the 200 block of E. College avenue. The convertible then glanced off the rear of Kelderman's car and hit a parked car owned by Herbert L. Johnson, 55, 1002 W. Harris street. The driver of the Farr car fled the scene on foot, witnesses told police.

The auto now at the police station, was badly damaged in the front end. Police indicated they also believe the car registered to Farr is the one which shortly before the accident went over the curb and sidewalk at 218 Lawrence court and tore up shrubbery when the driver started off at a high rate of speed. Police got a complaint on the incident about 9:30 and another on the accident about 15 minutes later.

15-Year-Olds Admit Stealing 4 Autos

Captured as They
Re-Enter Stolen
Station Wagon

Appleton police have solved theft of four cars with the capture of two 15-year-old Appleton boys.

The boys were caught by police when they returned to a stolen station wagon Thursday afternoon to continue a joy ride. They confessed stealing three other cars, one of which was smashed against a tree in Erb park, causing nearly $700 damage to the vehicle.

Robert W. Bloch, Madison, told police his 1957 station wagon was stolen from the Red Owl store parking lot at W. Wisconsin avenue and N. Richmond street between 10 o'clock Thursday morning and 1:15 in the afternoon. He went on a search for his station wagon and found it at N. Outagamie and W. Harris streets.

Police watched the wagon and captured the two boys when they returned, with the ignition keys in their possession, to take the car for another ride.

Wrecked Wagon
The boys confessed stealing a 1958 station wagon belonging to John Barlow, 178 River drive, from the Appleton Elks club parking lot on March 13. The wagon skidded about 100 feet into a tree in Erb park, wrecking the rear of the vehicle.

The boys also confessed thefts of cars belonging to Robert Duthie, 1134 Oakcrest court, on March 12 from the 200 block of S. Appleton street, and Ronald Heuer, 316 W. Commercial street, on March 12 from the 100 block of S. Appleton street.

All of the cars were late models. All had the keys in the ignition lock.

The youths' capture solves all but two of the car thefts reported in Appleton in the last 10 days. Two other men who admitted stealing cars are awaiting sentence in the Outagamie county jail.

Mayor Misquoted in Thursday Story on

Mayor Robert L. Roemer was misquoted in Thursday night's Post-Crescent regarding his suggestion of what to do with Joseph J. Engel's third letter on fluoridation.

The mayor suggested to Ald. Homer Malmstrom, who wanted the letter received and filed, that the letter be referred to the board of health for study.

The council, however, voted to file the letter.

The Post-Crescent story said the mayor suggested referral to the water commission.

Judge Parnell Upholds Order Against Union

Says Laborers' Local
May Not Picket
Appleton Motel Job

Circuit Judge Andrew Parnell this morning upheld a temporary court order to halt Laborers' Local 931 picketing of a motel being built near Highway 125 and 41 west of Appleton.

Judge Parnell said, "I cannot escape the conclusion that the picketing is to coerce the employer to force his employees to join the union. As such it is unlawful."

He added there was no labor dispute among the workers and no attempt apparently had been made by the union to solicit membership among the 16 workers.

Single Picket
The picketing began March 10 and has been carried on by a single picket. Several loads of materials for the motel construction have not been delivered when union drivers refused to cross the picket line.

The union claims that the builder — Landis Designs and Builders, Inc., an Iowa firm — has refused to hire union labor.

William Walters, 1014 N. Appleton street, assistant superintendent on the project, said he talked to union representatives in February, but was not asked to join the local. He added he does not want to join the union.

Richard Rath, 150 Wright avenue, Neenah, superintendent, said a single union picket had prevented trucks from entering the construction area.

Rath denied promising he would hire union employees.

Denies Motion
Parnell denied a motion by Atty. Donald Herrling, representing Local 931, that the court had no jurisdiction over the case. Herrling argued the case should be heard in a federal court since the builder is an out-of-state firm. Parnell denied a second move by Herrling to transfer jurisdiction, this time to the NLRB, after Herrling argued the firm is engaged in interstate commerce and outside the jurisdiction of the circuit court.

Construction on the $70,000, 10-unit motel is in the foundation stage.

The restraining order names Local 931 only. The picketing was continued after issuance of the order by a man carrying a carpenter's local sign. Union officials indicated at that time they would utilize members of other trade unions to continue picketing.

State Patrol Arrests Bring $714,262 Fines

Total 67 Per Cent Up From 1956; Bulk Paid To Local County Funds

A total of $714,262 in fines and $123,220 in court costs were assessed by courts as a result of arrest action by state patrolmen during 1957.

The state fines increased 67 per cent over the $428,194 levied in 1956, while court costs were up 72 per cent over the previous year's $71,859, according to records of the enforcement division of the motor vehicle department.

Wisconsin counties are the largest beneficiaries of the funds acquired from fines and penalties paid by violators arrested by the state patrol. Wisconsin laws provide that local governments retain 50 per cent of all traffic fines and 10 per cent of all other fines. In addition, court costs and the entire amount of all forfeitures, except forfeitures from speeding violations, remain with the local units.

Should Johnny Learn to Read And Write or be Trade-Minded?

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

A question that is sure to start a heated argument in any group of parents is: "What is Mary or Johnny supposed to learn in school?"

There are 60,000 school districts in the United States and there are that many answers to the question, says John Keats, in his new book, "Schools Without Scholars."

One camp of educators holds that the purpose of schools is to prepare children for useful lives, and therefore it is more important for them to learn such things as beauty shop operation and carpentry than to study Latin.

Another faction insists just as violently that when Johnny goes to school he is supposed to learn to read, write and figure, and what good is a knowledge of industrial arts going to do him if he can't add up his weekly pay?

There are others who hold that children go to school to learn to express themselves, and if the expression takes the form of burning down the schoolhouse, the little dears are merely getting rid of inhibitions that might hamper them in later life.

Everybody, says Keats, has an opinion on what's wrong with our schools, and few know what they are talking about. He points out that the curriculum of a high school in an upper bracket community where most of the students will go on to college must of necessity be far different from that of a coal-mining or cotton-picking town where the main purpose is to teach the pupils a trade.

When a school teacher can't think of any other answer, says Keats, he declares his pupils are learning life adjustment. The author continues:

"Perhaps the best attitude toward life adjustment would be to junk the phrase. . .

when Puritan children learned "A is for Adam" and were then belabored with the admonition: "In Adam's fall we sinned all," they were being adjusted to a phase of Puritan life — and with the dour, unanimous support of a populace that burned witches. If our children learned "A is for atom," and were then told "atom's the bomb that blows us all up," we might think of them as being life-adjusted for our time."

As an extreme in the "life adjustment" category, Keats points to a Maryland high school that offers a course in beauty shop operation, with classes in "how to arrange pin curls, how to create new hair styles, how to achieve the bouffant look, how to give shampoos." At the end of the course the student receives a cosmetology license.

Maybe this is more than learning to think, but Keats and I don't think so.

Beau Has One-Track Mind; Likes TV Watching in Dark

BY ANN LANDERS
 DEAR ANN: I'm only 18 but I think I know what I want. At present I'm going with a fellow who is 23 and looks like Pat Boone.

We've been going steady 10 months. My mother pointed out that he's taken me out on actual dates only three times since last March when I accepted his I.D. bracelet.

him that you're tired of the cloistered life and you want to get out where there are lights and find out if you can still see at night.

The social program you describe can't possibly lead to anything good and it very well might lead to serious trouble.

(P. S. Pat Boone has a beautiful voice, a wife and four kids. What has your lounge-lizard got to brag about?)

DEAR ANN: I was a widow for six years and worked hard to provide a nice home for my son.

Two years ago I remarried. Shortly after the marriage my husband, for no reason (except jealousy) beat the tar out of my 16-year-old son.

The boy refused to live with us so I rented a room for him in the neighborhood. I take care of my husband's two children by a former marriage and it breaks my heart not to be able to make a home for my son who is now 18. I've asked the boy to come home to live, but he's afraid of his step-father.

The strange thing is, Ann, the man treats me very nicely and we get along fine. What can I do?—B.D.R.

Mrs. Al De Young, 1611 W. Wisconsin avenue, will entertain circle members at the next meeting.

Flowers Gaily Herald Spring As Dull Winter Leaves Valley

BY SUSAN NOYES
 Post-Crescent Staff Writer

As winter slowly lifts its dull curtain from the valley, Fox Cities florists shops are bright havens of color and fragrance. The browser lingers over shopping errands delighting in the array, while the home gardener's thoughts turn to long-neglected flat beds.

Gay heralds — the pretty blooms predict the elusive season which is fast approaching. And as the weeks of lent slip by, florists are stepping up preparations to handle the traditional volume of flowers for the Easter trade, a high-point in the floral marketing year.

Many varieties will be ready — the tulips, daffodils, hyacinths, azaleas, hydrangeas and the symbolical milky-white Easter lilies, splendid in pristine beauty, are favored gifts for shut-ins and to brighten interior corners. Planters, too, sporting varieties of trailing greenery, carry out the holiday theme with novelty pottery shaped as chickens, rabbits, ducks and serene Madonnas.

Pretty Buffet Selections The cut flower selection is almost unlimited and hostesses planning Easter dinner parties may do well to cue table arrangements to show off the lovely spring flowers to best advantage. Yellow and white daffodils, blood-red tulips, wedge-wood blue iris and pinky sweet peas vie with the fragrant spicy carnation and sweet rose for buffet attention.

For those donning new chemises for the Easter parade, a corsage will be delicate trim on these straight-line fashions. Flowers such as gardenias, violets, roses, orchids, carnations, sweetpeas might be pinned to the shoulder.

The home gardener, too, is not over-looked as seed men have whetted his fancy with new varieties. The petunia has appeared in new dress with such h y b r i d s as "glitter," a white flower with pink edge, and "crusader," with red striping white petals. The tiny ageratum has introduced "blue mink," a deeper lilac shade, and the spreading alyssum is seen in the deeply purple "royal carpet."

Care Extends Life Whether the shopper's pleasure is a charming violet nose-gay, dozen American beauty roses, stately lily or flat box of petunias, he should remember that these fragile beauties are sturdier than they look. Proper care will lengthen their life and many of the plants will travel easily from parlor table to outside garden.

The home gardener and flower-enthusiast would do well to check with their florists when selecting blooms. Tradersmen who depend on the delicate blossoms for a living have long regarded their wares as children—subject to temperamental quirks and containing individual qualities—but like youngsters, flourishing under loving care.

One Fox Cities florist advises that corsages be kept refrigerated in cellophane bags when not worn. He adds that flowers are to be worn heads up, "like they grow in nature."

Crop Stalk Ends Cut flowers will brighten tables longer if the ends of the stalks are cropped diagonally and immediately plunged into lukewarm water. This hastens capillary action and deters wilting. Bouquets also will remain fresh if kept out of direct sunlight and drafts and placed in a cool outer hall overnight.

To Hold Banquet

The Ladies Aid society of Mt. Olive Lutheran church will hold its annual banquet at 6 o'clock April 8 at the church. Mrs. Edward Brock will be in charge of the event. The evening's program will consist of the awarding of pins to two 25 year members of the society.

Consider Lay of the Land When Selecting Home Site

One of America's Top Developers
Says Plot Is Factor Most Often
Neglected by Prospective Buyers

BY JOHN O. B. WALLACE

Consider the lay of the land, literally, in picking a site for your future home. Because, says one of the nation's top site developers and planners, the site or plot is the factor most neglected by home buyers.

A. Carl Stelling, whose New York site engineering firm has won national awards for planning subdivisions, offers this down-to-earth advice to prospective home owners:

"The plot's location in the community, its shape, size, topography and facilities are more important than closets in the house—but they get far less attention.

"Alterations, even additions, to houses can almost always be made, but it is rarely feasible to change the lay of the land."

As a guide to potential home buyers in their evaluation of sites, Stelling's firm has prepared a nine-point checklist. The list ranges from taxes and municipal facilities to future zoning prospects and so-called premium price corner lots.

This is Stelling's checklist:

1. If possible, pick your home site in or near an established area. If the surrounding community has "aged" gracefully—that is if its homes have been well maintained and landscaped—you can be fairly confident about the future of the neighborhood.

2. Determine what municipal facilities apply to the site, keeping in mind that those not currently existing may be the basis for future assessments. Seek a neighborhood with as many of these facilities as possible—paved streets, street lights, snow removal service, adequate fire and police protection, adequate schools, sanitary sewers, storm sewers, public water, refuse collection and mail delivery. Look also for a nearby shopping area, houses of worship, parks, theaters and transportation.

Good sources for this type of information are local real estate agents, banks and builders. Also talk to families already living in the neighborhood. Their opinions and knowledge can prove invaluable.

3. Check the taxes on the potential site—and find out from the local planning board or your attorney if new schools, or other locally-financed improvements, are planned. They are apt to boost taxes on your property in the future.

4. Look toward the future. It would be profitable to visit the local town-planning commission to find out about zoning, or the lack of it, in the area of the site. Find out, too, about any plans for highways or other projects which would affect the value of your prospective property. If the community has a master plan, find out what it holds in store for your selected neighborhood. Your attorney will be a good source for this information.

5. In evaluating the size of a lot, think in terms of usable space as well as total area. Generally, the space behind the house will be used for family activities, and it should be adequate in most cases for your needs. But be certain the site allows room for future expansion—for example, for the addition of a garage, a workshop or an extra wing. If the lot is not served by a public sewer, it should be no less than half an acre in size. In such a case, to be completely safe, try to find a site of an acre or more. Septic tanks sour the soil, and the more land you have the safer you will be where there is no public sewer.

6. In evaluating the shape of a site, remember that the primary function of the lot's frontage is to provide access to the road. Also remember that frontage in most communities, sewers, sidewalks and other municipal facilities. A frontage which is one third the depth of the plot generally provides a proper proportion. If your suite is wider at the back than at the front, you're in luck because it will give you a higher proportion of usable space.

7. Avoid sites which are below the level of surrounding streets. Such sites are subject to many annoyances, such as poor drainage and extreme automobile headlight glare from roads and highways. Low-level sites also create difficulties in tying into public sewer systems.

8. Always be wary of water on or near a site. There is a possibility of flooding and wet cellars. Lakes and streams also represent a danger to young children. Water in heavily populated areas tends, too, to become increasingly polluted and therefore less useful for recreation purposes.

9. Think twice before paying a premium price for a corner lot. While such lots usually are upgraded on the basis of "prestige," the facts seldom justify the added cost. In many communities, both frontages of a corner lot are subject to assessment. More important, a second "front lawn" takes the place of usable space behind the house. Also, traffic noise and headlight glare come from two sides instead of one—and privacy is reduced.

Washington—Maybe business is actually better today than it has been—but it will be a month or more before the statistics will be compiled to tell us what has really happened. So, in the meantime, almost everybody inside and outside of government is just guessing about the trend. There is one thing, however, that has unquestionably caused bad business which isn't a matter of guesswork. It's the bad weather. Experience has shown that people just don't go downtown shopping or begin to look at the new cars in the sales rooms when they can't even get back and forth from work readily because of the snow or the sleet or the rain.

From one end of the country to the other America has suffered unusual weather in the last few weeks. Although this week is supposed to be the beginning of spring, the national capital is going through one of its worst "experiences" with weather in many years. This isn't the kind of climate that produces a buying mood. Nearly every part of the country from Maine to Florida and westward across the continent has encountered some of the worst weather that any winter has brought.

Other Years
—Other years have seen occasional storms, but this year the amount of inconvenience has been prolonged due to the recurrence of high winds and freezing temperatures, along with rain and snow.

Considering the bad weather, it is surprising the statistics of retail trade are not any worse than were recorded in January and February, but it makes one wonder what the country would have witnessed in the way of buying if there had been normal weather.

Another Factor
Bad weather also has added to unemployment in a number of industries, such as lumbering, fishing and construction. Fishermen all along the Atlantic coast, for example, have been kept in port much of this winter by storms and cold weather.

There is another factor, moreover, which is often lost sight of in appraising the business situation. The length of time, for example, between a decision to spend government money and the week or month the spending actually begins depends on a variety of factors that nobody can analyze with accuracy. It takes time for blueprints to be made and contracts to be allocated and materials to be gathered before labor is employed.

Thus, Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas, Republican, made a speech in the senate on Thursday in which he blasted economic "pessimism" and cited seven items which could spark "a vigorous, dynamic upswing in our economy." Here are the seven items which he said had been furnished him by a business analyst:

First, steel output now running at the rate of 71,000,000 tons a year is expected to go above the annual rate of 115,000,000 tons at some point in 1958.

Second, defense orders are due to advance the $12-billion rate of last autumn to about $26 billion some time this year.

Third, gross national product will see an increase of $10 billion in the $34-billion rate for all goods and services which was the figure for the fourth quarter of 1957.

Fourth, consumer spending will see in the fourth quarter an increase for goods and services of about $12 billion over the same period last year.

Fifth, spending for residential construction will be up 16 per cent by the fourth quarter of this year over the fourth quarter of 1957.

Sixth, bank credit should increase by $5 billion due to recent removal of restraints.

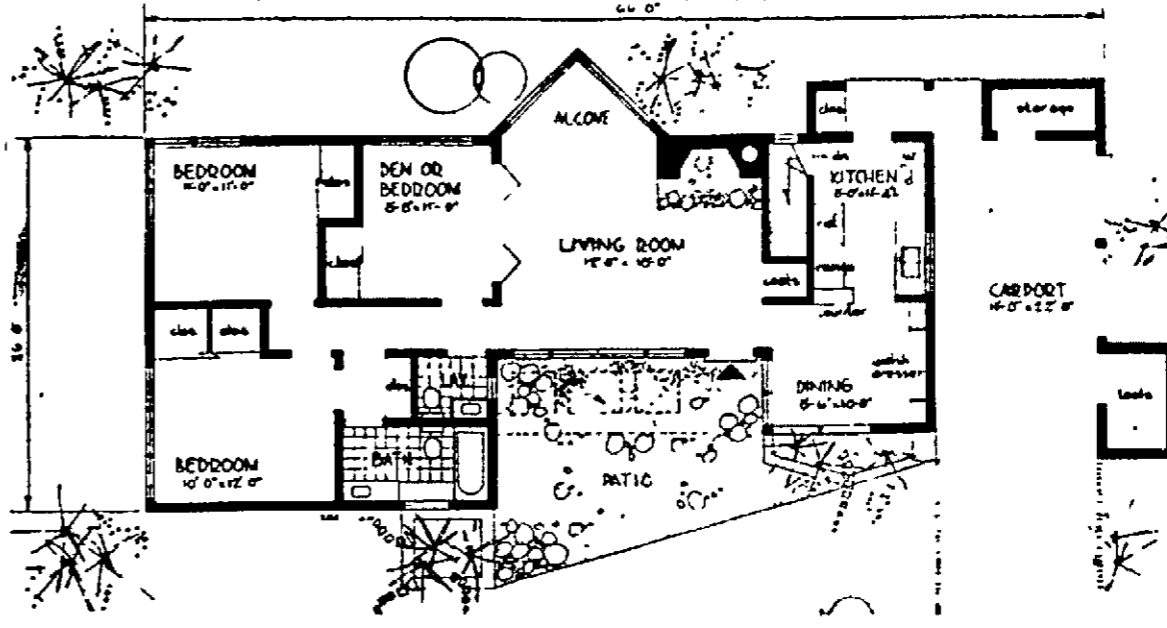

Seventh, science and defense items should increase by more than a billion dollars this year both government and private spending.

All these indicators are derived in large part from programs which have already been announced, but no one knows exactly how long it takes to get any of these factors into full-speed operation. For it isn't possible to look at the national economy at any given moment and get a concept of what is actually happening. The only sure way of knowing is by examining the statistics of a particular week or month, and usually these are not available till after another month has elapsed.

But there can be no denying that the prospect of a tax cut of a permanent nature "across the board" and the expectation of larger government expenditures already has created a lot more confidence nationally about the future than prevailed a month ago.

Homes With a Flat Roof Are Growing in popularity, designers say. This plan features three bedrooms with bath and a half, a full basement, dining spot close to the kitchen and a car port. The exterior has stone and frame walls. The home covers 1,320 square feet of floor space. For the name of the designer, call the Post-Crescent and ask about house plan 221.

Shade Trees Need Careful Handling

Healthy Species Add Dollars of Value to Your Property in City

Regular care of valuable shade trees on your property pays dividends. Not only will the trees live longer, but they'll provide better shade and are both safer and more beautiful to look at.

According to the National Arborist association, a mature tree of desirable species may be worth several thousands of dollars. Such sums have been awarded by the courts in damage cases for a single large tree, as its destruction may reduce the value of the whole property by such an amount.

Sound care of trees is important to any home owner. Here are the steps needed to keep your trees in sound condition, as outlined by the arborists.

Pruning, Shaping
First, an annual inspection by a local tree expert at least once each year for his advice on the proper treatment of existing trees.

Secondly, pruning and shaping of all trees, including removal of all broken or dying branches and painting of the cuts with a good tree preservative. Such activity helps keep the trees in healthy condition and helps prevent the development of diseases. Disease often develops first on dead wood, then spreads to healthy limbs.

Third, periodical spraying of all trees is necessary as recommended by the tree expert.

Fourth, fertilization of trees may be needed. The best way this can be accomplished is by boring a series of holes in the ground outward from the tree as far as the roots spread and filling the holes with a good balanced fertilizer containing nitrogen, potash and phosphorus. Since different species of trees may require different fertilizers, it is best to consult the tree expert on this also. In fact, he has the necessary soil augurs and power tools and can often do the work more efficiently and sometimes cheaper than the home owner can do it himself, especially if he is doing other work on your trees at the same time. Liquid feeding gives faster results.

Add to Value
A diseased tree detracts considerably from the value of a property, while healthy trees add greatly to its value. Regular care by an expert assures the maintenance of property values due to trees. In your "home improvement" program this year include care of your trees, advises the Arborist's association, for the investment will pay off in increased resale value of the property. If you do not have trees on the property now, by planting them you not only derive summer shade and pleasure, but also the aforementioned increased property values.

And when you hire an arborist or tree expert to care for your trees select a tree company with good local reputation. He will have professional status. It's like consulting a doctor, you pick the man with the best reputation in town. A professional arborist will have insurance that protects from possible injury and he'll do the job safely for everyone concerned.

Pruning Is Kindest Cut For a Tree

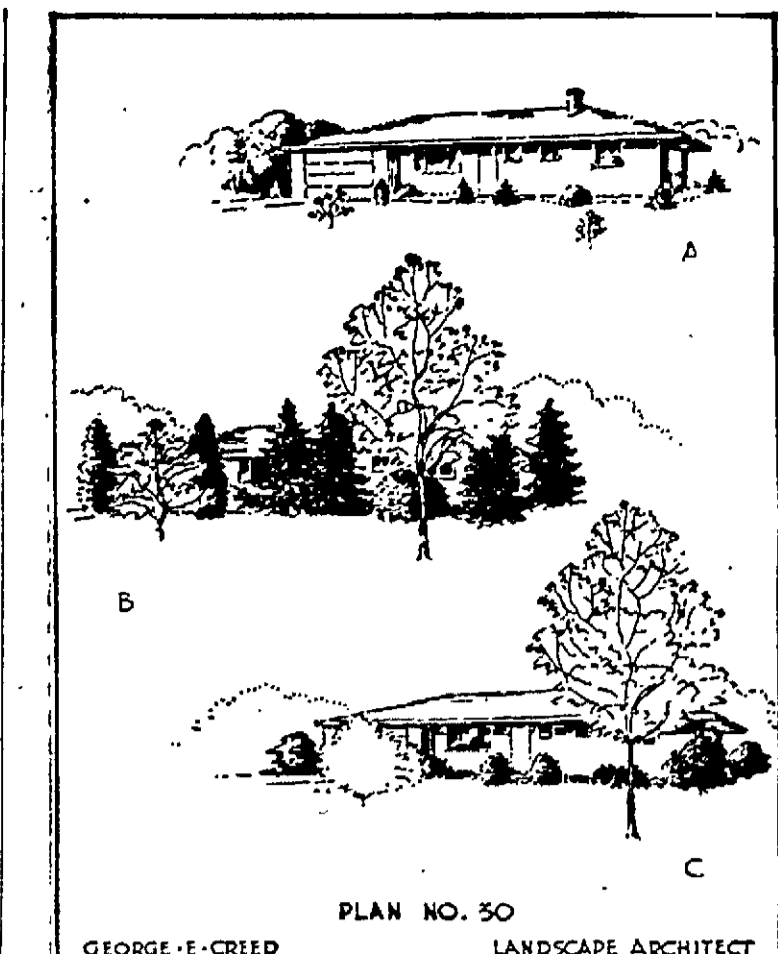

How the twig is bent is not nearly as vital as how the branch is severed in establishing the basic growth patterns of young trees.

The ultimate form of arboricultural youngsters is largely determined by the amount and quality of formative pruning done while they are quite small. Before the pressure of other garden duties involve the week-end gardener, now's a good time to establish the shape of things to come for young shade and fruit trees.

M. W. Staples, tree expert, points out arborists are kept busy removing larger lower branches that should have been eliminated years before. Then one snip of the pruning shears would have taken care of the problem.

Early pruning has another important attribute. It leaves only small scars that quickly disappear when the bark closes over. You can make real headway on head room on the home grounds by snipping off lower branches that might cause noggins bumping by pruning while trees are in the formative stage. Branches never will grow any higher on the trunk than they are now, so there should be no trouble estimating just how high is up, as far as safe clearance is concerned.

Amateur gardeners are apt to overlook this essential pruning in establishing back yard fruit trees. Simply because you observe the low-growing kinds in commercial orchards is no sign that your pet should grow in the same proportions. On the home landscape, the apple tree, for instance, should be pruned to develop structural strength.

Scale Is Major Factor In Good Planting Plan

Relative Size of Trees, Shrubs Must Always be Considered

By GEORGE E. CREED
Suppose you awoke one morning to find that during the night your chimney had mysteriously increased in size so that it stuck out ten feet above your roof top.

Even though it might work better with the increased height, you would lose little time in having the chimney cut down to its old size. Why? Because it wouldn't look right.

It would be out of scale with your house.

Scale is "the relative size of parts as compared with the whole." One reason why so many foundation plantings are ugly or at least lacking in appeal is that they are out of scale with the house they are supposed to embellish.

In sketch A it is obvious that the plants are too small for the size of the house. There is nothing wrong with using small plants; in fact, they are recommended because they are more economical and their chance of survival is greater than that of large ones. In sketch B, another extreme in scale is evident—the plants are much too large for the house.

Instead of complementing the home and making it look more attractive, the planting hides it and prevents light from entering the windows. When a planting grows to this stage, it is time to take it out and start all over. This is both bothersome and expensive.

By selecting lower and slower-growing types and by occasional pruning, a foundation planting can be kept in proper scale.

Plan Plumbing Job in Spring

Most Contractors Have Time to Prepare Estimates

Early spring months are an ideal time for homeowners to provide for maintenance, repairs and modernization of plumbing, heating and cooling equipment.

With a certain amount of slack at this period of the year before new construction gets under way, plumbing and heating contractors have time to prepare estimates on modernization as well as repair work.

Surveys indicate that one homeowner out of five is planning some type of modernization work involving plumbing, heating or cooling.

These industries are making a special effort during 1958 to promote the greater use of time-payment selling for modernization work, says the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information bureau.

Contractors are glad to offer free estimates on the modernization of bathrooms, installation of additional bathrooms, conversion of unused spaces into convenient monthly payments.

Completion of such work during the spring will greatly enhance the appearance and value of the home. By doing the preliminary planning now, the homeowner will avoid the last-minute rush which is expected in the late spring and summer.

Trend Experts Might Have Use in Congress

Long-Winded Speeches Could be Reduced if Senators Knew No One Was Listening

By A. S. Mike Monroney
U. S. Senator from Oklahoma

Washington — Behold the glories of automation! Shorter work weeks, greater production, lowered costs—every man a manager! But it is amazing just how the television industry, the Madison avenue advertising clan and the television pollsters have advanced so far so fast.

(This is another in the "statesmen's series" of columns being written by distinguished persons in government, business, national affairs and the military for Thomas L. Stokes who is seriously ill.)

Now, by automation, they seem to know what program my wife will want to look at tonight or next Sunday night. If I don't know, how can Mr. Nielsen of Nielsen's TV reports know? Maybe my wife wants to see "Maverick" instead of Steve Allen. I sure can't tell anybody, but Trendex and the American Research bureau know. Each network program is carefully and automatically rated as to its public acceptance by various little devices showing which programs the public is listening to at that particular period.

Automation is simply wonderful, no more guesswork in TV programming—no struggle with art or culture, no worry about the discovery of new talent, no fussing around about new plays or new ideas. Just press the button and bingo—Mr. Nielsen, Mr. Madson and the TV networks have fead America's mind in its television complexities.

It seems that some inventive genius, a fugitive perhaps from the ballistic missile science corps, has perfected an electronic gadget that, placed upon 100 or 200 sets in New York City, can give an accurate picture of what program the 10 million New Yorkers are looking at each night. All of these 100 or so are scientifically selected guinea pigs properly weighted and categorized as to their right percentage of the 10 million in the New York television audience.

Of times, not completely trusting automation for mind-reading, telephone calls—say 100 or 200 more—are used to check the accuracy of the automatic mind-reader.

Of course, these gifts of automation and mind-reading can't be spread to Pocatello or Fort Worth or Tuscaloosa. Just apply the percentages of listeners in L.A. or Chicago to them. But the automatic records in a few cities, coupled with telephone calls in a few others, do make the science exact enough to remove the normal and apparently objectionable idea that the television network or the program sponsor should have some sense of responsibility and judgment as to the quality of the program.

I don't like to quibble about this new science. But I wonder if we couldn't perfect the automation a bit further and find out, if the set is on in the "sam-ple home," what the age of the television viewer really is. I'd feel a bit better about this mastermind selector of my television fare if the gadget registered whether junior is watching the set or if the program actually is being viewed by an adult. From the net result of the TV ratings, I suspect junior is the mastermind of the electronic masterminds.

Appelton Post-Crescent
Friday, March 21, 1958

It might help also if the gadget showed whether or not the program had put the viewer to sleep.

Maybe while the house of representatives is seriously investigating the matter of she-nanigans in the Federal Communications commission, it might be good for the senate to tune in for a "whodunnit" on this new automatic mind-reader and predicting device. The infallibility of the TV pollsters has become such a credo in the area of Madison avenue that congress should have a look at it.

Think what could be done in reducing the number of senate speeches if we could be told beforehand that no one was listening to us anyway, because they like "Gunsmoke" better. And even if it is junior casting the family vote, a senator shouldn't try to disqualify him. After all, junior may be a registered voter before I run next time.

Purchase of High Cliff Property Approved

State to Pay $25,000 for E. H. Verbrick Holdings to Add to New Forest Park

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—The most strategic purchase thus far in the new High Cliff State Forest park on the northeastern shore of Lake Winnebago was approved Thursday by the state conservation commission.

The commission approved the acquisition of nearly 12 acres of land from Eddie H. Verbrick, Appleton. This commercial area, known as High Cliff park, includes a tavern property, picnic and amusement grounds.

The state will pay $25,000 under an option entered into in January. About $19,000 will come from state funds, with the remainder provided by a private donor through the Fox Valley citizens' organization, the High Cliff Park association. This group has been pushing for the development of the state park and has raised substantial sums from private sources to supplement state expenditures.

$19,000 Appraisal

Commissioners were urged to buy the Verbrick property a month ago, but postponed a decision then, reportedly because of reservations about price. A conservation department appraisal put the value of the property at about $19,000.

Original purchases in the locality were made three years ago from the Western Lime and Cement company. Technically the forest is within the boundaries of the Kettle Moraine state forest, which enables the commission to use a part of the state forestry tax receipts to finance land buying there.

Under his agreement with the state, Verbrick will retain possession of his business site for two years so that he can operate the holdings through this year and next.

Swine Show Set in Seymour

Seven Counties Will Enter Pigs in Event At Fairgrounds April 2

Entries from seven counties will be on sale at the first Northeastern Wisconsin Feeder Pig show and clinic at the Outagamie county fairgrounds in Seymour on April 2, John E. Powers, Outagamie county agent and show chairman, said today.

The counties are Outagamie, Brown, Shawano, Waupaca, Oconto, Marinette and Winnebago. Four entries will be allowed from each county.

Farmers can enter a pen of feeder pigs weighing from 10 to 50 pounds. The pigs need not be from the same sow or of any particular breed.

The pigs will be purchased by the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing co-operative with a premium offered according to placings. Powers stated.

Premiums Offered

A premium of $1 per pig above the weekly market will be paid for blue pens; 50 cents for red pens and 25 cents for white pens.

In addition to viewing the 28-pen exhibit, the public will be allowed to participate in a judging contest with prizes to be awarded by the pig co-operative.

An educational program will be sponsored by the animal husbandry department of the University of Wisconsin.

The show and clinic will be an all-day event beginning at 9:30 in the morning and ending at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Lunch will be served at the fair grounds.

The event is sponsored by the county agricultural extension service, Wisconsin Swine Breeders' association, Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing co-operative and swine organizations from the seven counties.

16 Estates Set For Probate Court

County Judge Stanley A. Staidl has scheduled 16 estates for hearing in probate court Tuesday.

Hearings on termination of joint tenancy will be held in the estates of Catherine Mollon and Jeanette Delrow.

The will of George F. Derscheid will be presented for probate.

A letter of administration will be sought for the estate of John Weitz.

Claims will be heard against the estates of Cora E. Harvey, Carrie Lambie and Anna Walsh.

Final accountings will be presented for approval in the estates of Flora Brettschneider, Andrew J. Meitner, Anna M. Coos, Meta Otto, Henry Meiers, Anna Kobussen, Mrs. Margaret Buss, Gust Bauer and Martha Hoh.

Coop Entered, Nothing Taken

A burglar Thursday night pried open a sliding door and entered the Greenville Cooperative but stole nothing.

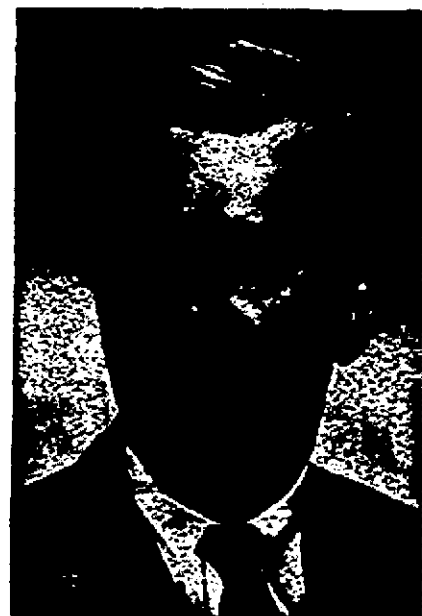

Leo Fenst, operator of the cooperative, told Sheriff Donald Heinritz he discovered the entry this morning. The burglar pried off a door to get into the building.

Sheriff's Lt. Jack Zuelzke said the burglar apparently wandered through the cooperative building in search of money but found none. Zuelzke said a sale Thursday at the store probably attracted the burglar.

Menasha Can Afford Better Teacher Wages, Schools, Lawyer Says

City Receives Substantial Funds From State for Education, Arnold Cane Tells Instructors

Menasha — In comparison with other cities Menasha receives substantial funds for school purposes from the state and can afford to pay better teacher wages and build more schools, assemblyman Arnold Cane told Menasha teachers and citizens Thursday night.

The former Menasha school board president spoke on "what increased state or federal aids might become available for schools" at a public meeting held in the high school library.

"While I favor more state aids for schools I still think Menasha is well off and has more money available for school purposes than other cities. Yet citizens and city officials complain and criticize school officials when they ask to build new schools," the Menasha attorney emphasized.

Cane pointed out the state legislature has decreased the number of school districts from 6,000 to about 3,000 in recent years and in 1957 increased state aids for schools by 28 per cent.

Two Types

"There are two types of people interested in education, those who always think of what's best for the children and those who are only concerned with the almighty tax dollar. I can't help but think the second class of people is always wrong," Cane asserted.

He maintained more money is spent on cigarettes in the state than on schools. "If we were to spend as much money on schools as is spent on liquor we'd have the biggest and best schools in the nation," he stated.

Cane said the legislature has tried to pass laws giving more independence to city school boards but protests have been raised by many groups, especially city councils.

City school boards and commissions should have as much freedom in running schools as most of the state rural boards do, Cane maintained.

Although he is not in favor of federal aid for schools, Cane predicted such aid for the building of schools would be forthcoming in a couple of years.

Referendum Not Needed to Expand Utility, Board Told

Winneconne — The Winneconne village board was advised Thursday night by its attorney, Melvin E. Crowley of Menasha, that it had the power to expand utilities without having need for a referendum vote.

The attorney also was instructed to get in touch with the Chicago Concrete Tile company, an engineering concern, to have borings taken prior to laying pipes in an extension of utilities.

More Teachers, Pupils Hike School Budgets

Menasha — A 10 per cent increase in enrollment, a larger teacher staff, the opening of the new Clovis school, and a 2 1/2 per cent cost of living wage increase for maintenance help, cooks and teachers are reasons why $63,000 more is needed to run Menasha public schools this year. Robert Farrell, school board president, stated Thursday night.

Farrell was guest speaker at a Menasha teachers union sponsored public meeting at the high school. He discussed "How Our Local School Finances Are Obtained."

In explaining why the board will spend an estimated $718,238 this year compared to actual expenditures of $655,266 in 1957, Farrell said a large share of the added costs will be used to run the Clovis school for four months this year.

Receipt Breakdown

Of the money to be spent this year, 11.6 per cent will come from state aids; 2 per cent, county aids; 0.9 per cent, tuition; 0.6 per cent, vocational school board; 4 per cent, lunch program; 1.8 per cent, other sales and rentals; 1.6 per cent, cash balance, and 77.3 per cent from local taxes, Farrell stated.

"State aids are pro-rated with $35 received for each grade school pupil and $44 for each high school student. County aids are based on the number of grade school teachers employed in our system," he explained.

The lunch program is usually a break-even proposition with each student charged 30 cents a meal. The state also provides 5 cents for each meal served, Farrell emphasized.

In 1954 the town of Menasha paid 14.4 per cent of the tax money needed to run the schools while this year it is paying 21.4 per cent. The town's share of the cost has gone up because values are increasing in the town while Menasha's aren't because there is no room to expand, Farrell pointed out.

Change in Fence Law Approved By Aldermen

City to Sell K-C Stock to Finance Dock Rebuilding

Neenah — Residents whose property abuts commercial areas may now erect fences without regard for the previously required 50 per cent visibility, under an ordinance amendment passed by the city council Wednesday.

The new amendment replaces an old law which did not distinguish between fences in strictly residential areas and those in residential-commercial areas.

The council authorized the sale of 125 shares of Kimberly-Clark stock at the best price available, the proceeds to go for reconstruction of the boat dock at Riverside park. The K-C stock is worth about $53.75 per share at the present time. It was given to the city by an anonymous donor for the dock repair.

The council also authorized payment of $215 to Justice of the Peace Mayhew Mott for extra work involved in handling police court while the regular police justice, Edmund P. Arpin, was recovering from an accident.

The sum of $25 was appropriated for an abstract company search for the street limits of Race street, the street between the canal and the Wlecker Lumber company office. Complaints have been received lately of parking violations by trucks on the street. An ordinance is to be presented after the street limits are ascertained.

A petition from residents of the Wilson school area was referred to the public protection committee. The residents requested the city to restrict baseball and softball activities to the north yard of the school on account of damage to homes and injuries to small children resulting from baseball games in the school's south yard.

Before adjourning the council granted a beverage operator's license to Clarence Hesselman, route 1, Neenah, and referred to the finance committee a request for damages suffered by Miles H. Simpson, route 2, Appleton, when his auto struck a manhole at Third and Hewitt streets on March 6.

Management Speakers Urge Long-Range Education Plan

Menasha — A long-range education program to instill safety habits into the minds of employees during all waking hours was one of the suggestions which came out of the panel discussion by management speakers at Wednesday night's meeting of the Twin City Industrial Safety council held at Germania hall.

Joseph H. Levandoski, president of John Strange Paper company, pointed to the need to reduce all accidents. There has been a slight decrease in the number of occupational accidents but an increase in the number of non-occupational accidents, he said.

Promotion of safety is becoming rapidly as much as operational function of industry as first aid, the nurse and public relations, and it will increase in the future, he predicted. Top management must support a safety program and encourage its safety director. He urged, commenting that too many people are only mildly interested in safety.

Proper indoctrination E. E. Den Dooven, director of manufacturing services at Marathon, stressed the need of proper indoctrination of new employees on safe habits and practices. Management provides a safe facility but it should not have to put a lock on machinery guards to keep employees from working without the guard.

It is very difficult for management to guard the mind and attitude of the worker. Employees sometimes still will disregard safety rules in order to speed up their work, he declared.

The supervisor has a definite responsibility in the indoctrination of safety practices and must be constantly alert to the safety habits of those in his charge and must act immediately on violations.

Results of a good safety program cited by Robert Wood, staff safety director of Kimberly-Clark corporation, include the elimination of misadventure and suffering, avoiding loss in income and property to the employer and worker and good morale among workers. It also maintains skills and conserves manpower.

Improves Morale Good working conditions improves the morale of the workers when they know that management is concerned with their health and safety. Good working conditions also contributes to more efficient operation, Wood mentioned.

Accidents cannot be eliminated unless safety becomes part of everyone's job, he cited and mentioned that includes the industrial engineer is designing a plant layout, management and employee.

A good safety program emphasizes the importance of the individual. It gives a means of recognition of the individual and his contribution. A safe mill is an efficient and profitable mill and a poor safety program is one that management cannot afford. Results do not come easy and there is no shortcut. It takes topnotch, enthusiastic leadership, he told the safety council.

Neenah PTA Council Elects New Officers

Neenah — Donald Nollenberg was elected president of the Neenah area Parent-Teacher association council Thursday evening in the activities room of Neenah High school. Lawrence Morrow was elected vice president; Richard Luft, secretary, and Mrs. Chester Gooding, treasurer. Named to the executive committee was Miss Evelyn VanBeek.

Three school principals, Miss Blanche McIntyre, Mrs. Lena James and Miss Margaret Sambs, formed a panel to discuss "What Teachers Want the Parent-Teacher Associations To Be." The panel pointed out officers and committee chairmen should be selected with care and stressed the importance of attending PTA meetings and conventions.

They urged parent help with clerical work in the schools and suggested that study groups be organized within the PTA. The panel advised PTA units prepare handbooks to be sent to all parents and that principals be consulted on the types of PTA programs.

Salmon Recipes Will Add Variety to Lenten Meals

Neenah — Homemakers often find their recipe files of meatless dishes almost exhausted near the close of the lenten season. Two salmon recipes suggested by Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent, will add variety to meals and serve well for informal party occasions.

Either a tuna or salmon loaf can be made from a recipe with these ingredients; two cans of tuna or one can of salmon, one and one-half cups of packaged poultry stuffing, one-fourth cup minced celery, two tablespoons minced onion, two slightly beaten eggs and one cup condensed cream of mushroom soup.

Combine all ingredients. Pack into a nine by five by three inch loaf pan lined on the bottom with waxed paper. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes or until the center is firm. Remove from the oven and let stand five minutes in the pan. Then turn out onto a heated platter. Serve with tomato or cheese sauce.

French-toasted salmon sandwiches are made with one can salmon, drained and flaked, one-half cup finely chopped celery, two tablespoons chopped green pepper, one tablespoon minced onions, one-fourth teaspoon of salt, dash of pepper, four tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing, eight slices bread, one slightly beaten egg, one-half cup milk and shortening.

Combine the salmon with celery, green pepper, onion, salt, pepper and mayonnaise or salad dressing. Spread salmon mixture over four slices of bread, top with remaining bread. Dip sandwiches in mixture of egg and milk. Fry until golden brown on both sides in small amount of hot shortening. Serve piping hot.

Odds Favoring Basilio Shrink as 'Sugar' Looks Sharp

Chicago —(U)— "Sugar" Ray Robinson is putting a high polish on his left hook for delivery to middleweight champion Carmen Basilio Tuesday night.

It won't come in the form of a surprise package. Basilio knows "Sugar" Ray has a left hook. If he doesn't, Gene Fullmer will tell him.

It was Robinson's perfectly-timed left hook that sent Fullmer sprawling in the fifth round a year ago as Robinson recaptured the 160-pound title for the third time.

Appeared Rusty
Robinson is cagey enough to show onlookers just what he wants to show them in sparring sessions. Two days ago he appeared so rusty and acted so much his age of 37 that odds favoring Basilio reportedly rose to 11-5.

But Thursday he displayed the cat-like grace and the sharp, powerful punches that have made him legend. His timing was near perfect. The odds well could settle down to 8-5, as they were the first of the week.

It has become apparent that Robinson's main concern is to get Basilio out of his crouch. When the champion crouches, ring experts think Robinson will uncork a barrage to the body. As Basilio begins to crouch, Ray will go for the button with short, crushing left hooks.

While Robinson is shaking himself down, Basilio is going into semi-secrecy. Only close friends and members of the press will be permitted to watch him work out.

Basilio has been concentrating on a body attack and in private has been doing what one of his managers, Joe Negro, describes as "experimenting."

The International Boxing club says there is $250,000 cash in the till and expects the gross gate to be around $435,000, an indoor record, by fight time in Chicago Stadium. Only $30 and $40 tickets are available, the cheaper ones having been snapped up.

Lions Trade Dorne Dibble To Giants

Detroit —(U)— The Detroit Lions traded away their second veteran in two days Thursday, sending end Dorne Dibble to the New York Giants for a high 1959 draft choice.

Dibble, a former Michigan State star, has been an offensive end for the Lions since 1951 and has a career record of 142 pass receptions for 2,552 yards and 19 touchdowns.

Wednesday the Lions traded veteran lineman Ray Krouse to the Green Bay Packers, also for a 1959 draft choice.

Appleton High school's 11-3 Fox River Valley conference record for 1957-8 just missed being good enough for title honors, but it enabled the Terrors to increase their composite lead.

2 Miss Title
The Terrors boosted their aggregate cage record for the 1950s to .699, increasing their lead over Oshkosh. And, AHS raised its all-time winning record to .672, widening its margin over Sheboygan Central.

In the period covering the 1949-50 to the 1957-8 seasons, high for conference guards.

inclusive, the Terrors have won 38 games — a bulge of nine over runner-up Oshkosh. In the current decade, everyone but Sheboygan North and Fond du Lac has won or shared a title.

In all-time FRVC play, beginning in 1923, the Terrors have won 297 and lost 145. Central, which has been competing since 1938, has a 182-98 record (an average of .650). Next comes Oshkosh with 257-180.

Five records — three by individuals and two by a team — were established during the recently completed season. Manitowoc's Bill Nelson scored 286 points — the highest total ever scored by a guard during the conference season.

Appleton's Jack Uwellung sank 123 baskets, an all-time high for conference guards.

Gharrity Scores Record 44 Points Against Eau Claire; Madison West Nips Manitowoc in Opening Round

BY CHUCK CAPALDO

Madison —(U)— Marty Gharrity and the defending champion Shawano Indians collided with Milwaukee North, and Madison West plays its cross-town rival East tonight in the semi-finals of the forty-third annual Wisconsin State High School Basketball tournament. The winners will battle for the state crown Saturday night before a capacity crowd of 13,800 at the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse.

Shawano, No. 1 team in the state, took another stride toward its third consecutive championship Thursday by polishing off Eau Claire, 90-81. Gharrity accounted for almost half of the Indians' total with a record 44-point spurge.

North Stays Unbeaten
North stumbled and fumbled its way to its twenty-first straight triumph, a 79-59 decision over Black River Falls in the other afternoon game. West nipped Manitowoc, 67-66, on a short jump shot by Bill Workman with 51 seconds left, and East wrecked Superior Central, winner of 21 games in a row, 71-63 in night games.

In this afternoon's consolation semi-finals, Black River Falls was to play Eau Claire and Manitowoc was paired with Superior Central.

Shawano, now 25-1, plays North, 21-0, at 7 o'clock, and East, 20-3, will meet West, 21-3, at 8:30. The Madison teams split a pair of regular-season games.

A record opening-day crowd of 30,236 saw a mixture of good and bad basketball. There were surprises, too, the biggest one being Superior's shoddy play.

The Vikings, the state's No. 2 team looked pathetic at times. In Gharrity, the Indians have the individual standout of the tournament so far. The businesslike, 6-2 senior, broke Sam Antcliffe's tournament scoring record of 41 points with a variety of shots, all thrown with a feather-like touch.

Antcliffe, of West Allis Hale, established his record two years ago.

Sinks 15 of 26
Gharrity, one of the nation's finest young golfers, sank 15 of 26 shots from the floor and 14 of 16 from the foul line. The Indians, who outshot Eau Claire 507 to 374, shattered the team scoring record for one game. The old standard of 88 points was set by Waukesha in an overtime contest against Beloit in 1954.

The Old Abes, twelfth in the final Big 16 poll, almost turned the tables on Shawano with a second quarter rally that trimmed a 15-point deficit down to two. But Gharrity took command as the third period got underway and pushed the Indians out of danger with a string of five baskets. "Hud" Gelein led the losers with 32 points.

Joe Says He Won't Play for Any Team but Yanks

By The Associated Press
The first baseman problem with the Philadelphia Phillies remained desperate today when Joe Collins, 35, said at St. Petersburg, Fla.,

Philadelphia had found a crack at the job by Mayo Smith, Phils' manager, but now is in the outfield. Thursday when the Yankees trounced the Phils in an exhibition game 11-8 Frank Herrera, a Cuban with triple A experience, played first.

Hits only .201
Collins, of Union, N.J., has been in the Yankee organization since 1939. He played over 100 games each season until 1957, when in 79 contests he batted only .201, his poorest year. Bill Skowron is the regular Yankee first baseman, and

Logart Is 7-5 Choice Over Akins Tonight

New York —(U)— Cuba's sleek Isaac Logart pits his speed and boxing skill against the punching power of veteran Virgil Akins in a 12-round bout tonight that will earn the winner a shot at the welterweight championship within 90 days.

Logart is a 7-5 favorite to win the third and "rubber" clash of the 147-pounders at Madison Square garden.

For this semi-final of the elimination tournament each will receive a $20,000 guarantee plus the right to face Vince Martinez for the vacant title.

The championship has been open since Carmen Basilio had to yield it when he ascended to the middleweight throne by whipping "Sugar" Ray Robinson last Sept. 23.

They met twice in 1955. Akins won the first by split decision while Logart beat his sluggish rival easily the second time.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 9 o'clock, CST.

Buhl, Conley and Johnson Tame Redlegs at Bradenton

Bradenton, Fla. —(U)— It was just like last year Thursday as the Milwaukee Braves pounded out 12 hits in crushing their old buddies, the Cincinnati Redlegs, 11-1 in an exhibition game.

Hank Aaron also hit the ball out of the park. Pitcher Bob Buhl found the doings pleasant as he made his first appearance of the Grapefruit season and took the victory.

The Braves landed on the Redlegs for four runs in the first inning, added two in the second, and Buhl, Gene Conley and Ernie Johnson had a shut-out in the works until Cincinnati pushed a run over in the eighth when they trailed, 11-0.

Schmidt Has Troubles
In his three innings Buhl allowed four of the nine Cincinnati hits. Conley three in three and Johnson two in two.

The first inning was a nightmare for former St. Louis Cardinal Willard Schmidt who opened for the Redlegs. After Al Spangler walked Aaron hit one over the right field fence.

Terrors Increase Composite Cage Lead; 5 FRVC Marks Set in 1957-8

FOX RIVER VALLEY CONFERENCE

Oshkosh 29-21 Sheboygan N. 34-24
Manitowoc 24-26 Green Bay W. 47-29
Green Bay E. 60-57 Fond du Lac 27-29

Appleton High school's 11-3 Fox River Valley conference record for 1957-8 just missed being good enough for title honors, but it enabled the Terrors to increase their composite lead.

2 Miss Title
The Terrors boosted their aggregate cage record for the 1950s to .699, increasing their lead over Oshkosh. And, AHS raised its all-time winning record to .672, widening its margin over Sheboygan Central.

In the period covering the 1949-50 to the 1957-8 seasons, high for conference guards.

inclusive, the Terrors have won 38 games — a bulge of nine over runner-up Oshkosh. In the current decade, everyone but Sheboygan North and Fond du Lac has won or shared a title.

In all-time FRVC play, beginning in 1923, the Terrors have won 297 and lost 145. Central, which has been competing since 1938, has a 182-98 record (an average of .650). Next comes Oshkosh with 257-180.

Five records — three by individuals and two by a team — were established during the recently completed season. Manitowoc's Bill Nelson scored 286 points — the highest total ever scored by a guard during the conference season.

Appleton's Jack Uwellung sank 123 baskets, an all-time high for conference guards.

Forester Says Indians Can Cut More Trees

Value on Menominee Timber Land Higher Than Believed

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The 3,200 members of the Menominee Indian tribe are probably richer than any of them know, an Indian study commission was told here yesterday by a forestry expert on the basis of new studies of the tribe's forest resources.

Present Restrictions

Present federal law restricts the annual cutting of saw timber from the Indian lands to 20,000,000 board feet, plus about 2,000,000 board feet a year, without damaging the reserves, and within the concepts of sustained yield management of the forest.

Danny Kaye's 'Merry Andrew' A Laugh Maker

Farce to Play at Appleton Theater
Beginning April 4

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

For just plain hilarity and fun, based on a mixture of pure comedy and song, few movies can top "Merry Andrew," previewed in a special showing Thursday night at the Rio Theater.

This delightful farce with Danny Kaye in the role of a piper sort of schoolmaster will come to the Appleton theater for a week's run beginning April 4. It's one that shouldn't be missed by moviegoers who like to spend an evening laughing.

From the moment the timid English schoolmaster, Kaye, of a long line of distinguished but stuffy schoolmasters, gets his flowing academic robe caught in the sprocket of his bicycle the show is off to a hearty chuckle.

The deft handling of character roles by the cast is a light-hearted spoofing of English tradition and sense of duty in the manner of a musical comedy that flows along from one funny sequence to another. Kaye carries the comedy lead in "straight man" fashion as the whimsical plot develops.

Finds a Circus
An archeologist at heart, this young man sets out to search for an ancient Roman statue during a holiday. He finds the meadow he has marked for excavation is occupied by a traveling circus and here is where the real fun begins. He digs his way into the center ring filled with ferocious lions during an afternoon performance, he saves the day for the circus folk, discovers he has two girls, covets with an accomplished acting chimpanzee and dodges the wrath of five circus brothers who doubt his intentions with their beautiful sister aerialist.

One hilarious comedy sequence occurs when Kaye takes over for the fat ringmaster in an inflated costume. He spends most of his time on the ceiling of the circus Big Top in a performance that convinces both circus folk and audience that here is a real "Joey" or natural clown.

It's all a gay mixup that comes out all right in the end—an evening of real entertainment.

Alderman Worries Over Railroad's Transfer of Depot

Ald. R. P. Groh is concerned over the announced transfer of Chicago and North Western Railroad facilities to Appleton Junction on Monday. "I would like to know," he told the council, "if anyone has talked to the railroad about improving the station to meet requirements of a metropolitan city like Appleton and its neighbors."

Mayor Robert L. Roemer and Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings assured Groh they have been told the railroad intends to make extensive improvements at Appleton Junction.

"I personally inspected the Junction depot this week," Roemer said. They're painting and remodeling and will rebuild the entire platform."

Mrs. Stillings said she has talked with North Western officials and they assure her the station will be practically rebuilt in a short time.

Not Married? You May Need a Higher Income

Washington—The census bureau has reported officially that many men have long suspected: The fellow with the higher income is more likely to get the girl.

The bureau's study of marital status and income showed that 96 1/2 per cent of men over 35 who have incomes of $6,000 and more are married. Only 71 per cent of those with incomes under $2,000 have wives.

Straight-facedly, the bureau commented: "These facts suggest that men with better-than-average earning power have the best chances of being selected as marriage partners."

Jingo's Sorry

Copyright Violation Against Benny Upheld

BY JINGO
Jingo was sorry to read that Jack Benny violated copyright laws when he parodied the movie "G. a. s. light" on TV six years ago. According to the news columns, the supreme court was equally divided. This meant the lower court's finding against Benny was upheld. The question evolved about whether you need permission of the copyright holder to take quotations from a copyrighted work in spoofing it. The lower court said indeed you must. Benny's parody on Jan. 27, 1952, was hilarious. He called the skit "Autolight." Patrick Hamilton, the author, and Loew's, Inc., sued to enjoin future showings of Benny's program on film. The action is why you don't see parodies anymore by TV comedians. Parody in Greek implies a comic imitation of a serious poem. It's probably the world's oldest form of humor. A basic ingredient requires that the work parodied must be well-known. The audience has to know what you're talking about or it won't go over. Jingo's Jewels: CBS-TV's "See It Now" Sunday, March 30, will examine the question of whether atomic tests constitute a major threat to civilization because of radiation and fallout. . . . Curb and gutter, grading and graveling and sewer and water laterals for S. Walden avenue from E. Fremont street to E. Calumet street and for E. Lindbergh street from N. Meade street to N. Viola street. E. Lindbergh will be finished with a 12-inch asphalt mat.

Sanitary sewer, water main, sewer and water laterals and grading and graveling for S. Toluluh avenue from E. Fremont to E. Calumet and on S. Gladys street from E. Harding drive to the south end of the street. The S. Gladys work will be done after the Dr. William Madison plat is approved.

The council confirmed the street and sanitation committee's denial of improvement projects which Nick, Roy J. and Leo J. Griesbach requested for parts of N. Outagamie, N. Gillett, N. Nicholas and N. The engineering department was instructed to draw plans for storm sewer on S. Ritger street from E. McKinley to E. Maple street.

Advertisers Invest Record Amount in Newspapers

SAME STORY... NEW HEADLINE!

Year after year, as the report comes in, the same story is filed for the record. Advertisers continue to exhibit their confidence in the power of newspaper advertising by placing the bulk of advertising dollars in newspapers.

According to McCann-Erickson, Inc., Printers' Ink Preliminary Estimates of Advertising Expenditures for 1957, advertisers spent a record $10,432,000,000 in all forms of media. Of this total, the largest share was again invested in daily newspapers — $3,325,000,000.

Advertisers turn to the daily newspaper because it gives the best buy for the money. Take a hard look at your advertising budget. Is the major share going into deeper-penetrating, more successful newspaper advertising? If so, you're on your way to more sales per advertising dollar.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.
